ROARING FIRE ON THE OVERPASS
When gas tanker driver Robert L. Mitchell, 27, drove across the Brisbane Overpass south of San Francisco yesterday, rain-slicked pavement caused the vehicle to overturn. The result: This spectacular fire that brought out fire vehicles from a wide Peninsula area to fight the flames fed by 8,000 gallons of spilled gasoline. The overpass was so badly damaged that the Bayshore Freeway was closed at this point today. Mitchell was uninjured. (UPI Telephoto by Coast Guard)

Two Motorists Killed On Stormy Roadways

Accidents Occur In Downpour

Two motorists were killed in Marin County last night and today as sudden squalls of hail, rain and high wind forced their vehicles off water-slick roads. Dean De La Montanya Jr., 35, a member of a prominent Marin family, died instantly, trapped in his overturned car, last night. Charles Henry Hoover, 23, of San Francisco was killed when he was thrown from his truck as it plunged off Highway 101 today.

No Change In De Gaulle's Policy Seen Despite Setback

PARIS (UPI)—French riot troops were flown to Corsica today to prevent violence during a crucial recount of votes from yesterday's elections. The recount could determine whether President Charles de Gaulle's forces will retain their absolute majority in Parliament. A stunning swing to the Communists and other leftists cut de Gaulle's "Fifth Republic Alliance" down to a one-seat majority in the National Assembly. The recount could take that one vote away. The Ministry of Interior announced at noon that the Gaullists had gained 244 seats in the 486-member house, just enough to maintain absolute control. The figure included Corsica but the final count will not be known until the recount in a district declared for the Gaullists but challenged by the left. The Gaullists held 266 seats in the old assembly. Communist ranks rose from 41 in the old to 73 in the new. Other leftists gained 26 seats for a total of 116. Small party and independent candidates won 52 races. The government ordered two platoons of special riot police flown from Toulouse to Bastia to prevent "incidents when the results of the second recount of the vote" are known. Corsica, the birthplace of Napoleon, was the site of anti-Gaullist demonstrations of Frenchmen opposed to his granting of independence to Algeria. The near defeat was not expected to change the proud general's policies. But it was going to make his "strongman" rule more difficult. Besides Bastia, Gaullist hopes for a formal parliamentary majority the next five years lay in Polynesia where French South Seas voters poll next Sunday for a seat. Gaullists also said they expected to get the support of six or seven small party middle-of-the-road members. The general's lieutenants had predicted massive victory. But four cabinet members including Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Defense Minister Pierre Messmer were defeated. However no one doubted De Gaulle will carry on as before—opposing U.S. Vietnam policy, being an odd-man-out ally, pressing for French nuclear arms might and remaining cool to British membership in the French-dominated European Common Market.

Meredith Out Of Race; Says GOP Reneges

NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith suddenly withdrew today as GOP opponent of deposed Harlem congressman Adam Clayton Powell, saying Republicans had reneged on promised money and campaign help. Meredith announced his withdrawal from the special election campaign in a surprise post-midnight statement. He told an 8 a.m. impromptu sidewalk news conference that Republicans proved unable or unwilling to keep their commitments. "Political expediency was the order of the day," said Meredith, whose entry into the race last Tuesday had drawn the wrath of many Negro leaders. Meredith would not say whether he now will support Powell. He said he had spoken to no emissaries from Powell in reaching his decision to withdraw. Some Harlem sources said civil rights leaders had appealed to Meredith to withdraw in the interests of Negro unity. By accepting the GOP nomination, he would be the white man's candidate, they argued. Sources said Meredith was told that he could make an even more dramatic gesture by giving up the support of the white people. This, it was said, would make him an even bigger hero in the Negro community. One factor that reportedly indirectly influenced his decision to quit, it was understood, was a statement by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. King said in Hartford, Conn., last night that Meredith's campaign against Powell in See MEREDITH, page 4

Tam Receives Second Snow In Three Days

Snow fell on Mount Tamalpais early this morning, the second snowfall on the peak in three days. The snow was heavy enough to obscure visibility, but melted quickly. Hail and rain pelted Marin yesterday and today as the late winter storm entered its fourth day. Rainfall in San Rafael for the 48 hours ending at noon today was 1.4 inches, bringing the season's total to 44.9 inches. Hailstorms were reported at Inverness last night and this morning, and heavy hail covered the ground at Greenbrae this morning. Hail also fell yesterday at Fairfax, San Rafael, and Ross. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. reported it was plagued all week-end with a series of minor power outages, the largest this morning when a lightning arrester failed in the San Marin area of Novato, leaving 500 customers without power for 40 minutes. Another outage cut power to 200 customers in Mill Valley last night when a tree fell through power lines at Throckmorton and Eugene Streets. Power was restored in stages from half an hour to three hours. Other power outages were reported Friday night in small areas of Bel Marin Keys, Bay-side Acres and Corte Madera, and Saturday in Mill Valley. A slide in Mill Valley partly blocked the street beneath the William P. Underwood residence at 390 Linda Vista Drive. High winds yesterday tore a boat loose from its moorings in Belvedere at 12:30 p.m., causing minor damage to the boat. Belvedere police and fire department secured the boat until it was recovered by the Coast Guard and owner Jim Petrick of 331 Madrona Street, Larkspur. Weather Bureau officials called it the worst snow storm of the winter in the Sierras, with no letup in sight before Wednesday. Both Interstate 80 and U.S. 50 were closed yesterday, with hundreds of tourists stranded at Reno and Lake Tahoe. Rainfall reports in Marin for the 48-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today included Belvedere .86 inches, San Anselmo 1.64, Bolinas .59, Mill Valley .82, Tam Valley .73, Sausalito .96, and Fairfax 1.9. Rainfall for the storm included Ross 3.55 inches, Fairfax 3.9, Terra Linda 2.95, Novato 1.92, Hamilton Air Force Base 2.41, Belvedere 2.46, Woodacre 2.82, and Larkspur 2.7.

Suharto Says Ousted Leader's Health Slipping

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Acting President Suharto told the nation today in a radio and television broadcast that the health of ousted President Sukarno has deteriorated. In his first major address since assuming the formal role as acting president last night, the strong man-general apparently was trying to head off trouble from backers of Sukarno, whom Congress stripped of his powers. "For psychological reasons it is necessary to explain to the Indonesian people that Sukarno's health is deteriorating," Suharto said, quoting a report from a team of doctors. Sukarno has been reported suffering from a kidney ailment. Suharto stressed that Sukarno's powers were revoked by Congress and that he was prohibited from any political activity. "Based on psychological reasons, the Congress did not mention the dismissal of President Sukarno from the presidency," he added. IN DOWNPOURS

The California Highway Patrol said both accidents happened at the height of storm downpours. The deaths bring the total so far in Marin traffic this year to 11, compared with four fatalities this time last year.

De La Montanya, former dairyman and restaurant operator of San Geronimo Valley, was killed on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road at 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Highway patrol officers said he was driving with his wife, Irene, in a convertible towards Sebastopol where he was to visit his father, Dean De La Montanya Sr.

DOWN BANK

As he crested a hill in the darkness and the rain, he failed to negotiate a curve. The car plunged down a steep bank and overturned, pinning him in the driver's seat.

Asst. County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine estimated death from massive head injuries was immediate.

Montanya's wife struggled for an hour to free herself from the tangled wreckage, and managed to haul down a passing motorist. She was treated in Petaluma Hospital for minor injuries.

Patrol officers said the car went through a barbed wire fence after leaving the road, sailed 40 feet through the air, and flipped end-over-end.

LEAVES CHILDREN

A short time earlier, the De La Montanyas had left their four children, Dennis, 14; Stephen, 12; Denise, 10, and Edward, 8, in the care of a baby sitter at their home at 45 Sylvestrine Drive, San Geronimo.

A native of San Rafael, De La Montanya was the valley's distributor for Lucas Valley Dairy for 12 years and was also a cattle buyer.

About two years ago, he took over the Villa Lucchesi restaurant in San Geronimo, changing its name to De La Montanya's. A year ago he gave up the restaurant — now the Oak Tree Inn — and became a dairy salesman for Berkeley Farms.

Hoover's pickup truck skidded off the California Hill overpass of Highway 101 at 6:55 a.m. today and dropped 50 feet to the railroad below.

Planes Inflict Damage; LBJ Readies Trip

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. airpower smashed key targets in North and South Vietnam to cap a weekend of war for the Communists who suffered 513 men killed in action, American spokesmen said today.

Early today U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses hurled scores of tons of bombs into a Viet Cong stronghold 18 miles southwest of Da Nang, the American Marine bastion in the northern South Vietnam sector where fighting roared heavily earlier in the weekend.

At the same time more Stratofortresses struck guerrilla base camps and jungle supply depots about 40 miles northwest of Saigon in a blow at the Chu Loi battalion, the Viet Cong's top-rated fighting force.

In Washington, President Johnson met with key diplomats and military advisers in preparation for the forthcoming Vietnam strategy talks on the island of Guam.

The Chief Executive, who returned last night from a quiet weekend at Camp David, luncheon session with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Walt W. Rostow, presidential adviser on national security affairs, and Press Secretary George Christian.

All are to accompany Johnson to Guam this weekend for the talks with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Dodd Acknowledges Use Of Dinner Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd acknowledged today he used testimonial gifts to pay for improvements on his Connecticut home and to pay income taxes. He also said he gave his son, Jeremy, $4,900 from the testimonial receipts. As the Senate opened public hearings into the Connecticut Democrat's finances, he conceded for the first time that he used some of $170,000 collected at four events for him between 1961 and 1965 for personal expenses.

But the Senator said his lawyers told him beforehand that the money, which his critics said was intended for political purposes, could be used any way he saw fit. Nevertheless, he said in a statement, most of it went for political debts.

Dodd also acknowledged he had been furnished exclusive use of three automobiles by a Connecticut contractor whom he is charged with helping get government business. The information was contained in 162 pages of "stipulations" agreed to by Dodd and the Senate Ethics Committee as the group opened the second round of hearings into charges of conflict of interest against him, and also that he pocketed campaign funds and double and triple charges for air fares.

The stipulations—statements of fact agreed to by lawyers for the committee and for Dodd—also included acknowledgement by Dodd of multiple billings for many trips he took. He said last week that such billings had occurred but blamed it on alleged ineptness of one of his office employees, denying any deliberate intent to collect more than once for expenses.

The stipulations also contained agreement by lawyers for both sides that Dodd did not collect payments for 21 round trips between Washington and Connecticut that were due him. These amounts for which he was said to be due payment, but had not collected from the Senate as travel allowance, would run $52 or an air trip and $87.50, plus highway tolls, for a car trip. The committee traced $94,869.57 of testimonial gifts to an account which Dodd had opened with the Federation See DODD, page 4

Stalin's Kin Offering No Statement
BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Swiss Justice Minister Ludwig Von Moos said today that Joseph Stalin's daughter Svetlana wishes to make no public declaration and has asked Swiss authorities to protect her privacy. Von Moos told a news conference that Miss Svetlana, 42, was given a three-month tourist visa for Switzerland after the trip she planned to the United States "became impossible." She arrived in Geneva from Rome Saturday and was whisked away to a secret hiding place in the Swiss Alps. Von Moos gave no hint of her whereabouts and intimated that the federal police would make certain she was not bothered. Von Moos referred to Miss Svetlana as "Mrs. Aliluyeva," her mother's maiden name and the name she uses in the Soviet Union. The minister said she arrived in India two months ago with the ashes of her Indian husband, Brijesh Singh, who had died in Moscow. "During her stay in India, she See KIN, page 4

San Quentin Inmate Involves Himself In JFK Assassination

A San Quentin inmate, arraigned in Marin Superior Court on an indictment alleging murder of a fellow-prisoner, today surprised the courtroom with a charge that he is suspected of being involved in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. James Boyd Mackey, 28, told Judge Joseph G. Wilson that for this reason his life is in danger. He said he was informing the court "so I can be provided with protection coming and going" from prison for court proceedings in the murder charge. "I'm certain San Quentin Prison is able to protect you," replied Judge Wilson. "There is no additional protection that I can provide you." Mackey requested a hearing in private with the judge, but this was denied. He did not expound on his reported involvement in the assassination. James W. L. Park, associate warden at the prison, said, "It is my understanding that he has made some comments about this matter, and these have been referred to federal authorities." Park said "there is no substantiation of anything he has said, to my knowledge." However, he said "a federal agency" is investigating, and agents already have discussed the allegations with Mackey. "If his life is in danger," he added, "we can handle this. However, he at this point is locked up in a restricted area of the prison and I don't think he is in any danger."

Mackey was sentenced for voluntary manslaughter in Los Angeles County in 1965. He is charged with the stabbing murder of Jess Russell Pearce, 49, in the prison cotton mill last Aug. 19. Pearce was serving six months to 15 years for sex perversion. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Mackey confessed the killing, to prison officials. Further court proceedings were scheduled for 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Electricians Report To 13 Shipyards

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Electricians reported to work at 13 West Coast shipyards today, their 129-day strike ended by a Taft-Hartley injunction requested by President Johnson. William M. Reedy, a business manager of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW), said the workers showed up for the morning shift in accordance with a court order requiring them to go back to their jobs for an 80-day "cooling off" period.

Tribunal Denies Slayer's Petition

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court today denied a writ of habeas corpus for Paul E. LaVergne, 23, who is scheduled to die in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber Wednesday. The high court vote was 4-3. The action paved the way for LaVergne to take his case to the U.S. Supreme Court unless Gov. Ronald Reagan grants executive clemency.

Khrushchev, Molotov In Public

MOSCOW (AP) — Two old men who once were among the Soviet Union's most powerful politicians — Nikita S. Khrushchev and Vyacheslav M. Molotov — emerged from obscurity yesterday to vote in a legislative election.

Consigned to what Khrushchev used to call "the dust bin of history," the two former adversaries have been living in the secluded retirement the Kremlin's post-Stalin leadership reserves for its political losers.

Khrushchev drew a friendly crowd of at least 1,000 at a polling station near his Moscow apartment. It was his biggest public turnout since he was ousted in 1964.

Thin, subdued and looking his 72 years, Khrushchev smiled back at his greeters, touched his homburg hat in a familiar gesture, and said of his reception, "It's very nice."

Molotov, 77, smiled thinly and walked slowly. He wore his customary rimless glasses, a hat, white muffler and gray coat, and was accompanied by his wife.

Both Molotov and Khrushchev voted for Khrushchev's successor as premier, Alexei N. Kosygin, who was running for the Parliament of the Russian federation, the Soviet Union's largest state.

Nixon Committee Organized

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A national "Nixon for President Committee" will be organized and headed by Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, who helped lead the California GOP back to power as state chairman, it was reported today.

The San Diego Union, in a copyrighted story by Peter Kaye said Parkinson was helped to a decision by his belief that "Nixon is clearly the best qualified man on the national scene to attain and keep peace without surrender and to keep prosperity without inflation."

The newspaper said it learned that Parkinson as national chairman of the group will travel around the country seeking support for the presidential candidacy of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Sierra Club Renews Grand Canyon Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Sierra Club today renewed its vigorous attack on attempts to dam the Grand Canyon with a full-page advertisement in The New York Times that included form letters to President Johnson, two governors and two congressmen.

The advertisement invites conservationists interested in preserving the canyon to clip the letters on the dotted line and send them to Johnson, Reps. Wayne Aspinall of Colorado and John Saylor of Pennsylvania, and Govs. Ronald Reagan of California and John Williams of Arizona. The letters urge defeat of dam legislation.

David Brower, executive director of the club, said the dams "would not provide anyone with water. In fact, through seepage and evaporation, they will waste enough water to supply Phoenix."

Last month the Department of the Interior announced the administration had withdrawn its support of the damming projects, but two weeks ago Aspinall introduced legislation the club believes would, if implemented, retard the carving process which created the Grand Canyon by the Colorado River in the last 10 million years.

Expelled Envoys Hit Peking Charge

MOSCOW (AP) — One of the two Soviet diplomats expelled from Peking last week denied today a Chinese charge that the Soviet Embassy there had abused and insulted Chinese employees.

The charge "was a provocation. We did nothing wrong," said Second Secretary O. A. Yedanov, head of the embassy's consular section.

Arriving from Peking with Yedanov, Second Secretary N. G. Natashin declined to answer questions at Moscow Airport, saying "I don't feel well." He was perspiring freely and looked ill.

A Revealing Study Of Hormone Levels

NEW YORK (AP) — Men produce their greatest amount of male hormone at the time of awakening in the morning, a new study finds.

Their hormone level then is as much as 40 per cent higher than at midnight. Midnight is found usually to mark the low point in a daily cyclic rhythm of male hormone output.

The finding of variations in male hormones by scientists of New York Medical College was reported today by the American Cancer Society, which supported their research.

The study may have applications as to the best time to give certain hormones in treating some forms of cancer, and implications regarding other clinical problems and human behavior, the society said.

Men and women are believed to produce both male and female hormones. Men are men because they produce more male than female hormone, and vice-versa, with the normal man producing about 20 times as much male hormone as the normal woman.

The New York study, by Drs. A. Louis Southren, G.G. Gordon, S. Tochimoto and G. Pinzon, may prove useful in improving hormone treatments of cancer.

Tiger Lady's Husband Dies In Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — The "Tiger Lady" and her husband used to be the most famous pair of fighters in the South Vietnamese army.

The husband, Maj. Nguyen Van Dan, 44, killed his 39-year-old wife, Ho Thi Que, during a quarrel late in 1965. Now the major is dead, killed during a Viet Cong attack on the infantry battalion he commanded west of Saigon.

The "Tiger Lady" and her husband married while both were with the Viet Minh fighting against the French. They defected to the Saigon government in the mid-1950s.

One In Death Car Carrying Supply Of Pills

NEWHALL (AP) — One of five passengers killed in a collision on U. S. 99 was carrying a supply of marijuana and pills, sheriff's detectives reported.

The man was identified yesterday as 19-year-old Lawrence Denton of Los Angeles. Others killed were identified as Bobby Lee More, 25, the driver; Marty Carol Broussard, 21; Willie Washington, 29, and Sandra D. Green, 20, all of Los Angeles.

Officers said their north-bound auto swerved into the opposite lane of the rain-swept highway and was struck broadside. The crash was 15 miles north of Newhall.

Officers said three teen-age girls, all of Bakersfield, were injured in the accident. They were identified as Cathie Cooper, 18; Shelly Morris, 17, and Carol Jaffie, 18. All were taken to Golden State Hospital, Newhall.

CDC Warns LBJ On War; To Support Peace Candidate

FRESNO (AP) — Delegates of the 30,000-member California Democratic Council served notice on President Johnson yesterday that they will support a peace candidate in the presidential primary unless the Vietnam war ends by September.

Boos and a few cheers rocked the annual convention of the huge Democratic grassroots political group when a delegate shouted: "I deeply admire President Johnson."

Delegates, in a split voice vote, adopted a policy statement promising to reconvene in September if the war continues and to back a slate of Democratic National Convention delegates in the June 1968 primary pledged to a peace candidate.

The convention also supported U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's proposal for an immediate end to the bombing of North Vietnam as a prelude to peace talks.

DIRECT OPPOSITION

"I think the mere mention of Sen. Kennedy's name will be considered in the White House as the most direct kind of opposition," said Evelyn Benson of Los Angeles.

The organization—a power in state Democratic politics—also gave another term to President Gerald Hill of San Francisco, a critic of the war.

Hill defeated another opponent of the war, John Thorne of San Jose 937-613.

The support for the peace delegation created a new California problem for the President: an expected candidate for re-election.

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty are already fighting for the job of leading a pro-Johnson slate of delegates in the primary. Both support Johnson in the war.

OPPOSITION, TOO

The Democratic Council said opponents of Johnson's policy must also be represented in the election.

The CDC policy statement said, "If there has been no peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam this convention will formulate a strong grassroots presidential primary slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention in 1968 pledged to support a candidate and platform opposing this government's war program in southeast Asia and supporting the renewal of a progressive peace-time program at home, throughout California and in the entire United States."

CDC member Phil Dreyer of San Bernardino said a peace delegation in the primary will help Yorty whom he branded a conservative.

But Assemblyman John Burton of San Francisco said some Californians will enter a peace delegation in the primary no matter what happened. He said the CDC should help form it.

The policy statement did not mention Johnson by name and Burton said, "this delegation could support any candidate who supports peace in Vietnam and social progress at home."

But speeches by anti-war delegates made it clear they did not like the President's policy.

Their policy statement called for immediate ending of the bombing in North Vietnam; announcement of the United States intention to attend a peace conference a week afterwards and the inclusion of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong, in the negotiations.

Opponents charged the policy statement was "one-sided." They declared it said nothing about Communist aggression in the Far East.

DISARMAMENT ASKED

"It is time for us to stop pussy-footing around," replied Lorry Sherman of Los Angeles. He said as long as the United States keeps "interfering" in the affairs of Asian nations "peace will never come to that area."

The CDC's policy statement called for co-existence with the Communist World, "meaningful disarmament," and said, "The first and essential step toward a reduction of international tension is settlement of the war in Vietnam."

Since the end of World War

II, delegates said, "we have been obsessed with an exaggerated and unrealistic fear of Communism."

Delegates also called for an overhaul of the state's constitution, revision of taxation and expansion in the welfare law. But the policy statement contained no direct criticism of the Republican administration of Gov. Reagan.

Two vice presidents were also elected. They are Claude Hurst of Fresno for the north and Joe Wolf of Los Angeles for the south. Other officers are Jo Seidita, Los Angeles, secretary; Lorraine Lahr, San Francisco, program secretary; Lorry Sherman, Los Angeles, treasurer; Michael Zucker, Los Angeles, controller.

B-B Pellet Hits

Novato School Bus

A school bus, carrying 60 Novato students, was hit by a B-B pellet which smashed a window Friday, sheriff's officers reported today. No one was reported hurt.

Driver Vera Pace said the Novato Unified School District bus was southbound on Alameda del Prado between Calle Arboleda and Duffie Court in Loma Verde when the pellet hit

Shaggy Hippies May Not Have To Vie With Lion

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Shaggy hippies in the Haight-Ashbury District of San Francisco won't have to compete with a shaggy lion for attention under an ordinance proposed today by Supervisor William Blake.

"San Francisco should not become a zoo. What with the hippies flocking in here, the city is already beginning to look like a zoo anyway," Blake said.

"A fully grown lion—or boa constrictor or any other wild type animal—doesn't belong in a home where it could be a menace to a neighborhood."

The supervisor may have a devil of a time making his lion hunt a success, however.

The action is directed against Togare, a 500-pound Ethiopian lion owned by Anton LaVey, who likes to call himself the High Priest of the Devil.

LaVey's neighbors want the lion removed because it "roars vociferously" and is a "potential danger to ourselves and our children."

Blake said his ordinance

St. Pat's Dinner

A St. Patrick's Day corned beef dinner and dance will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael, by Tamal Tribe 288 of the Improved Order of Redmen. Hostesses will be members of Gennessee Council 188 of San Rafael.

would stipulate that no wild-type animal "larger than a dog or cat" be kept as a house pet. "The state code says you can't keep a horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or poultry. But it says nothing about wild-type animals," Blake said.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Fred Whisman said he will hold a hearing at the Hall of Justice Tuesday to determine if the lion is a public nuisance.

Hussein Belittles Nasser's Chances

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein declared today that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic has lost his chance to establish his leadership in the Arab world.

Hussein addressed a public rally in Jericho, where in 1950 the Palestine Congress proclaimed the unity of Jordan's west and east areas under the leadership of the late King Abdullah of Jordan.

Hussein told 5,000 Palestine Arab refugees and leaders from both areas that Nasser "had the qualifications and was given the opportunity, which availed itself to nobody else, to serve the hopes and objectives of our nation for restoration of our rights in Palestine."

Redwoods Action Asked By Senator

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A state senator has called on Gov. Ronald Reagan to use the prestige of his office to stop the cutting of "bottom stand" redwoods on the California North Coast.

Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, said during the weekend that Reagan should act to preserve the redwoods while Congress chooses a site for a proposed redwoods national park.

Electric Motor, Pumps Stolen From Home

An electric motor and pump for an indoor swimming pool, valued at $90, were stolen late last week from the residence of Francis Edward Allison of 1404 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Allison told police the loss was discovered Friday when an electrician and plumber arrived to connect the motor as part of remodeling.

New York Life statement of condition

1966 was another year of progress and growth at New York Life. Both payments to policy owners and earnings on investments showed an increase. Our individual life insurance sales set an all-time company record. And our total assets rose to a new high, exceeding $9 billion. By allocating a record sum for the payment of dividends, we're currently providing millions of our policy owners with life insurance at the lowest cost in our 122-year history. As always, we look ahead with confidence to the challenges and opportunities of the future.

The body of Hoover was found outside the pickup truck. He was dead from multiple head injuries, reported Assistant Coroner Fontaine.

Also a San Francisco man was killed and three members of the Japanese Consulate General's Office were injured in a three-car collision on the Funston Avenue approach to the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco at 8:40 a.m. yesterday.

Killed was Albert Ming, 27, a gasoline service station attendant, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ming's southbound sports car hit a spot in the road covered with four inches of water, zig-zagged and veered across the center divider into a northbound car driven by Isao Uchida, 31, an attaché with the consulate general's office, officers reported. Then a northbound car driven by Christopher Peter Adrian, 23, of San Francisco, collided with the two cars.

Uchida suffered facial cuts, bruises of his right knee and chest injuries. Takashi Mayuzumi, 38, suffered facial cuts and shin bruises; a man identified only as Sasaki suffered facial cuts, knee bruises and shoulder injury.

former stronghold — remained quiet, but word of his dethronement may not have reached there yet due to the chaotic state of the island's communications.

The Indonesian Congress swore in Suharto as acting president yesterday to replace Sukarno, the only president the Indonesians have known since he proclaimed their independence in 1945.

There were fears that Sukarno supporters among the military and the people may start an insurrection to keep him in power.

Sukarno declined to return to Jakarta yesterday from his weekend mountain palace, but a spokesman said he may return Tuesday. Some reports said he may be forced to live in retirement at his palace at Bogor, 40 miles east of Jakarta.

Sources from Jogjakarta, the capital of central Java, said troops were patrolling the city but it appeared quiet. There have been numerous small-scale clashes and terrorist killings in the area in recent months between pro- and anti-Sukarno forces. It is considered one of the most troublesome areas for the Suharto government.

Harlem is ill-timed. King said that it would be much better for the House to seat Powell again because of what he termed "unique factors" which would cause Harlem Negroes to vote for him en masse.

Meredith, 33, admitted when he accepted the Republican offer to oppose Powell that he was laying himself open to "the fear and the scorn from fellow Negroes."

Not a single Negro political leader of either major party, or any Harlem community or national civil rights leader supported him. They said he was being used and didn't stand a chance of winning.

No Spying, Says Peace Corps Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps has never done any spying for the Central Intelligence Agency or anyone else, Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn says.

Former Peace Corpsmen, he said, are barred from joining any U.S. intelligence agency until they have been out of the Peace Corps at least five years. And if a Peace Corpsman is drafted, he may not be assigned to military intelligence, he said.

Vaughn was interviewed on Metromedia's radio-television program "Opinion: Washington."

Court Rules Quick Trial Is A Must

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that it is unconstitutional for a state to suspend prosecution of a defendant indefinitely.

The decision held for the first time that the Constitution's guarantee of a speedy trial to persons accused of a crime is binding on state courts and legal authorities.

Court Test Due On Vets' Exemptions

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A court test may be triggered soon which could have drastic effects on the eligibility standards for California's $1,000 property tax exemptions for veterans.

Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson is expected to announce this week that the Assessment Reform Law of 1966 requires him to use full cash value—instead of fractional assessed value—in determining Watson's action would virtually wipe out the property tax advantage enjoyed by more than 200,000 Los Angeles County veterans. It also would set into motion court action which would question the legality of the exemption throughout the state.

The action would eliminate at least 90 per cent of the Los Angeles County exemptions and mean a tax bite for county veterans $17.5 million bigger than last year.

A court ruling that full cash value must be the basis for determining exemption eligibility would have impact of a similar magnitude throughout the state.

The reasoning behind Watson's action has been challenged by Sacramento fiscal experts, but it has given rise to requests for a ruling by the attorney general from the California Assessors Association and Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, a chief architect of the Assessment Reform Law.

Several experts agree privately that a good court case could be made for declaring invalid the present practice of permitting veterans to use the fractional assessed value figure to stay below the ceiling for veterans exemptions.

The state Constitution provides that a $1,000 exemption may be used in computing the value of property owned by veterans which is below $5,000 for single veterans and $1,000 for married veterans. But the provision makes no reference to assessed value or market value.

decided not to return to the Soviet Union," he went on. "However, her wish to remain in India was not granted. On her own initiative she then appealed to the United States Embassy in New Delhi which organized her transportation to Rome."

"As it turned out, the continuation of her journey from Rome to the United States became impossible. Mrs. Alliluyeva decided in Rome that she wanted to go to Switzerland and asked the U.S. authorities to sound out the Swiss government."

The Soviet government, reacting to whispered reports based on foreign radio broadcasts, announced that Stalin's daughter had gone abroad and how long she stays "is her private affair."

The brief report by the official Soviet news agency Tass did not mention that Miss Stalina has been reported afraid to return.

The report was broadcast by Moscow television last night and was buried on inside pages of the only two newspapers published this morning, Pravda and Soviet Russia.

Many had heard of Miss Stalina's mysterious trip from New Delhi to Rome on Western broadcasts last Friday.

The Tass dispatch referred to Miss Stalina as "S. Alliluyeva (daughter of J. V. Stalin)."

Bank and Trust Co. of New York under the name of "Grace M. Dodd or Thomas J. Dodd."

It then showed that $9,479.40 was paid from the Federation account for improvements on Dodd's Stonington, Conn., home. In April and May, 1965, $4,900 was transferred by the Senator from the account to his son, Jeremy.

The committee then showed that Dodd owed $81,788.31 to repay loans, including several he had made to pay federal income taxes.

Dodd issued a statement just before the hearing started in which he said his attorneys told him he could use the testimonial money in any manner he desired. But he said he used virtually all of it for political expenses—debts that had piled up over the years during both unsuccessful and successful runs for the Senate.

In one of many stipulations—statements which lawyers for both sides accepted as facts—it was agreed that Dodd borrowed $211,000 between 1956 and 1959, and that at the end of 1959 he had personal debts totaling $150,000.

Many of the stipulations were technical and routine, but the one pertaining to cars was the first time Dodd had acknowledged having three autos put at his disposal by Dunbar Associates Inc. of Newington, Conn.

Politzer Keeps Seat On CDC

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito was re-elected as director of the First Congressional District at the California Democratic Council convention in Fresno Saturday night.

Politzer, who was unopposed, will serve for two more years. Gerald Hill of San Francisco, formerly of Marin, was re-elected president of CDC against a surprisingly strong bid by John Thorne of Gilroy, a "peace" candidate. The First Congressional District delegation voted 10 to 8 for Hill.

Probation On Grand Theft

Two years probation and a five-weekend jail term were given Airman 1/c Thomas Jacob Susz, 28, in Marin Superior Court today for grand theft from the Thursday Night Men's Handicap bowling league at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson also ordered Susz to make restitution.

Susz, secretary-treasurer of the league, embezzled over $200 in funds entrusted to him for purchase of trophies and prizes over a five-month period ending last April 21. He pleaded guilty Jan. 3.

Auto Stereo Stolen

A $120 auto stereo and $24 worth of tapes belonging to Gerald Little of 1 Arbor Street, Larkspur, were taken from his car while it was parked in front of his home early Saturday, according to Larkspur police.

OBITUARIES

William A. McLean Dies At 75

William Alexander (Sandy) McLean, 75, longtime Belvedere resident and former chief of two fire departments, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after being stricken in his home.

McLean, of 144 Bayview Avenue, collapsed in his bedroom and was taken to Marin General Hospital, then transferred to Southern Pacific Memorial Hospital in San Francisco, where he died.

Belvedere Community Hall's flag was flown at half staff today in his memory.

Born in Los Angeles, McLean moved to Belvedere when he was a year old. He served as

Sentencing Of Sidbeck Postponed

Sentencing of Robert Dean Sidbeck, 18, who pleaded guilty Feb. 17 to murdering a North Marin couple, was postponed today until 9:30 a.m. next Monday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson granted the delay to give Probation Officer Tom Estes additional time to prepare his pre-sentencing report.

Sidbeck, who bludgeoned to death Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Zimmerman in their dairy ranch home last Aug. 29-30, pleaded guilty to first degree murder and is ineligible for probation. The report was requested by Judge Wilson, however, for a fuller background on which to base his judgment.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales recommended life imprisonment rather than the death penalty following Sidbeck's plea. Sidbeck, a Marine and former friend and employee of the victims, originally pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Grand Theft Probation

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court today placed Patricia Nunn, 25, on three year probation and ordered her to make $1,235 restitution for grand theft from the County of Marin.

Mrs. Nunn, of 134 Front Street, San Rafael, drew the money in air for dependent children last April through August, but did not report she also was paid $1,285 as a Fairchild Semiconductor employee in San Rafael for the same period. She had pleaded guilty to grand theft.

Woman On Span Talked Into Truck

A television monitor set in the toll sergeant's office on the Golden Gate Bridge aided in the quick rescue Friday of a Vallejo woman who drove out to the bridge and officers feared might have decided to jump.

Bridge Lt. Edward C. Boyle, watching the television monitor at 3:25 p.m., saw a woman drop her purse on the sidewalk and walk away from it several times. She was crying.

Lieutenant Boyle and tow truck driver Anthony Schmidt drove out and talked Peggy Jean Hubbard, 32, of Vallejo, into the truck. She was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

chief of the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department and of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's fire department at the Tiburon yard.

He began as a fireman on the railroad's ferries in 1910, served two years, then went to sea. He returned to the railroad in 1917, staying until his retirement in 1958. He served 37 years as fire chief.

McLean, a member of Belvedere's volunteer department until his death, was chief of two fire departments, 14 years, succeeding his late father, Dan. Northwestern Pacific required him to drop that job during World War II.

McLean and his wife, the former Mary Copeland, celebrated their golden wedding in 1964. He was a 1906 graduate of Belvedere School, and attended San Francisco's Mission High School, graduating in 1911.

Surviving, besides his wife, are three sons, Scott of Belvedere and Robert K. and William A. Jr. of Mill Valley; three daughters, Edith of San Rafael, Mrs. Madeleine Cotton of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Shirley Danielson of Long Beach; a brother, Murdock McLean of San Diego, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Greenhood of San Rafael.

Pending an autopsy, funeral arrangements are incomplete.

JOHN F. BRIDGES

John F. Bridges, a retired correctional officer at San Quentin Prison, died Saturday in a Vallejo hospital after a long illness. He was 75.

Bridges lived at 10087 Redwood Highway, Cotati, the past four years. He was born in Pomona, Mo., and lived in San Quentin Village for 25 years while serving as a correctional officer.

Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Lola Stephens, Mrs. Bessie Dinger, Mrs. Ethel Abethany and Mrs. Ruby Maxwell of West Plains, Mo., and four brothers, Henry and Amos of Pomona, Mo.; Leslie of Yountville, and Oscar Bridges of San Rafael.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Services will also be held at the Carter Funeral Chapel, West Plains, Mo.

FLORENCE B. LANDO

Mrs. Florence B. Lando, 41, of 15 San Miguel Court, Fairfax, died at her home yesterday after a long illness.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. Entombment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Lando, a native of San Francisco, had lived in Marin for 13 years. She was a member of St. Rita's Women's Guild and the Catholic Social Service of Marin County.

She is survived by her husband, Remo Lando, an auto warehouseman, and three sons, Herbert A., John F. and Barre T. Lando, all of Fairfax.

The family prefers contributions to the Marin County Cancer Society.

CHARLES WALKER

Funeral for Charles Walker, 86, of 350 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, will be held tomorrow in Pasadena.

Walker, a retired post office employee, died Saturday morning in a local hospital after a one-year illness.

He had worked for the post office for 35 years before he retired in Pasadena. A native of Illinois, he had been a resident of California for 45 years and of Marin six years.

Walker was a member of Corona Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons in Pasadena; First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, and National Association of Retired Civil Service Employees.

Surviving are his wife, Lillian L. Walker; a son, Kenneth Walker of Pasadena; two step-daughters, Mrs. Edna Weber of San Rafael and Mrs. Vivian Hazlett of Fremont, Alameda County; a sister, Mrs. Ina Tom of Illinois, and two grandsons.

Burial will be in Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena. The family prefers that memorial contributions be to the Shrine Hospital or a favorite charity.

LOUIS J. PFAU

PASADENA (UPI) — Funeral services will be held today in San Gabriel for Louis J. Pfau Jr., vice chairman of the board of Coldwell, Banker & Co.

Pfau, in his 70s, died Saturday at Huntington Memorial Hospital. He suffered a heart attack last Tuesday at his home here.

Pfau, a native of San Francisco, had been with the real estate brokerage firm since his graduation from the University of Southern California in 1915. During his career he served as director of the Los Angeles Real Estate Board, president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board and was a director of the California Real Estate Association.

EMMA KIMBRELL

Funeral for Mrs. Emma Viola Kimbrell, 74, of Santa Rosa, mother of Mrs. Paul A. Brinkman of San Rafael, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Faith Lutheran Church, Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Kimbrell suffered a heart blockage while visiting her daughter Saturday and was taken to Marin General Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival at 8:30 a.m.

She was the wife of Roy E. Kimbrell, a retired lumber and hardware dealer.

A native of Illinois, Mrs. Kimbrell had lived in California for eight years.

Surviving are her husband; three sons, Roy E. Jr. of Grand Forks, N.D., Robert C. of Albuquerque, N.M., and Jack Kimbrell of Pullman, Wash.; her daughter, Mrs. Brinkman, and 10 grandchildren.

Burial will be in Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

GERALDINE FARRAR

RIDGEFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Geraldine Farrar, a leading prima donna in the golden age of American opera, died Saturday. She was 85.

Miss Farrar, a soprano, reigned at the Metropolitan Opera in New York from her debut in 1906 until her retirement in 1922 at the age of 40.

FREDERICK A. BROOKS

Funeral was scheduled in Sacramento today for Frederick A. Brooks, 71, a professor emeritus at the University of California, Davis, who collapsed and died at his summer retreat in San Geronimo Valley Friday.

He had just returned with his wife, Margaret H. Brooks, to spend the weekend at his home in Juniper Avenue, said Asst. County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine.

He was building a fire about 5 p.m., when he collapsed and died. Fontaine said death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Brooks had been working hard on a project for the past two weeks at the university where he was assistant research engineering professor emeritus.

He had maintained his second home in San Geronimo Valley since 1929 and had been at University of California since 1931.

He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Audrey Stolz of Mill Valley, Mrs. Emily Lynde of Eugene, Ore., Mrs. Deborah Corra of Bloomington, Ind., and Mrs. Brenda Jester of Anchorage, Alaska; two sisters, Mrs. Frona Rice of Northampton, Mass., and Mrs. Dorothy Thomas of New Jersey, and 11 grandchildren.

WILLIAM L. CHILDERS

Maj. William L. Childers of Terra Linda, an Air Force veteran of three wars, died yesterday in a Air Force hospital after a brief illness — just nine days after his retirement.

Childers, who was 42, retired March 1 after serving in the Air Force since 1943, seeing action in World War II, Korea, and Vietnam. For the past two years he had been assigned to Sixth Region Reserve Headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He has resided at 715 Los Colindas Road, Terra Linda. He was a native of Oklahoma.

He is survived by his wife, Myrtle Virginia Childers; a son, William Leon Childers Jr.; two daughters, Teresa M. and Joyce Ann Childers, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Childers of Guthrie, Okla.; two brothers, Terrell Glynn and Roley O. Childers; five sisters, Mrs. Barbara Arnold, Mrs. Myrtle Green, Mrs. Marion Bingham, Mrs. Maudie Hixon and Elsie Childers, all of Oklahoma.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m., Wednesday at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

ISAM B. HODGES

A memorial service will be conducted Wednesday at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry, for Dr. Isam B. Hodges, a co-founder of the school who died March 2 in San Leandro.

Rev. Floyd Looney, western field secretary for the Southern Baptist Annuity Board and a former vice president of the seminary, will deliver a eulogy at the service, which will begin at 9:50 a.m. in Broadus Hall. Seminary trustees, at the school this week for their annual meeting, will attend.

Fairfax To Consider Shopping Center Plan

Fairfax City Council tonight will set a public hearing on a proposed rezoning of the Buon Gusto property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard which would allow development of a million-dollar shopping center.

The planning commission last month recommended rejection of the rezoning on grounds it would create traffic problems. The rezoning request was for commercial instead of limited commercial and duplex zoning.

Two ordinances will be considered by the council, which meets at 8 p.m. at the Women's Club.

One would increase animal quarantine fees and delinquent license payments.

The other concerns annexing an electric substation on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

A report from the Park and Recreation Commission will be presented, listing plans and specifications for proposed tennis courts on the Women's Club property; also a report on a proposed senior citizens program and on Golden Star dances.

Also on the agenda are: a resolution setting up a method to elect a mayor and vice-mayor during non-election years; appointment of two members to the Board of Review, which acts on city personnel matters; appointment of a park and recreation commissioner; a recommendation the council write state officials in support of keeping an appropriation for a Deer Park—Phoenix Lake regional park in the state budget, and authorization of a bid call April 7 for repaving of Center Boulevard and other streets.

Marin City School Aid To Be Aired

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will meet with Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency commissioners to discuss aid for school development in Marin City, a new access road from Rodeo Avenue and a county-wide low rental plan.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center with the joint session on housing being the first matter on the agenda.

Supervisors tomorrow will also take up once again consideration of putting up $5,000 to launch a study on "balanced transportation."

The afternoon session will begin at 1:45 p.m. with consideration of an abatement order on a partially burned grocery store in Forest Knolls.

At 3:15 p.m. the board is to discuss proposed purchase of Elephant Rocks in northwest Marin. Gibbs H. Lawson of the county park and recreation commission was asked to appear and explain his criticism of negotiation on the purchase of the property.

Closed Meeting

San Anselmo City Council will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. today to review applications of several men under consideration for hiring as city administrator. City Clerk Anita Gannon announced.

Social Security Addition Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is urging support of his proposals to liberalize Social Security old age benefits so that "1.4 million citizens will be lifted out of poverty in 1968."

The President has proposed a 20 per cent over-all increase in the payments to provide at least $150 per couple per month for persons in retirement and $100 for single persons with at least 25 years of coverage.

In a filmed talk yesterday before AFL-CIO rallies in several cities, Johnson said more than five million elderly persons in the United States live in poverty. More than two million are on welfare, he said.

Author Set As St. Pat's Day Speaker

Robert Grant, author, chaplain and pastoral minister of the United Community Church in Glendale will speak on "Clerical Thumbs in Strange Pies" at a St. Patrick's Day rally Friday at 8 p.m. at the Odd Fellows Hall, 142 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley.

Grant is the author of five books and chaplain to Los Angeles juvenile penal institutions and the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

He has been minister at independent churches for 10 years and is also associated with the Voice of Americanism news analysis broadcasts with Dr. Stuart McBinnie.

The rally program will include items by a young singing group, The Note-ables. It is sponsored by Marin Central Church of Mill Valley.

50,000 Witness Parade In Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 50,000 persons stood in a driving rain yesterday to watch 250 soggy units march in San Francisco's annual St. Patrick's Day parade.

Mayor John F. Shelley took the downpour for about two-thirds of the parade, but Irish Consul James Kirwan and Police Chief Thomas J. Cahill stayed for the whole show.

Court Sentences Tshombe To Death In Absentia

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP)—Former Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe was sentenced to death in absentia for high treason by a special military court here today.

Tshombe is presently living in Madrid, Spain.

Tshombe, now 47, on July 11, 1960, declared copper-rich Katanga Province independent of the newly independent nation of the Congo and himself president. He stood off attempts by the United Nations to return the province into the Congo fold for 30 months. He finally capitulated on Jan. 15, 1963, after U.N. forces routed his white-officered gendarmerie.

Then he went into European exile and seemed destined to live out his life there. But in little more than a year he went back to the Congo and became premier of the nation on July 10, 1964.

There was constant criticism of his regime, inside and outside the Congo, however, and on Oct. 13, 1965, he was ousted and again went into exile.

It was during Tshombe's period of rule in Katanga that U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was killed in a plane crash in Rhodesia while on a flight to see Tshombe for cease-fire talks, in September 1961. The Katangan forces had just clashed for the first time with the U.N. peace force.

Lt. Col. Ferdinand Tshimpola, commander of the Katangese "Baka" regiment, which mutinied in Kisangani in July 1966 and Katangan Capt. Kalonda-Mwana also were sentenced to death today.

Pike, Altizer Tell Why God Is Still Alive

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Two clergymen whose sometimes unorthodox views created national controversy expressed agreement yesterday that God is alive, but not in the way many people believe.

Former Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike of San Francisco and Dr. Thomas J. J. Altizer discussed the existence of God at a three-hour program at the University of Oklahoma. The discussion touched on other subjects ranging from the use of LSD to the war in Vietnam.

Altizer, credited with starting the "God is dead" debate in America, said he used the phrase to emphasize that God had been transformed.

The traditional God, an omniscient, omnipotent lord of darkness and alienation, is dead, Altizer said.

"Upon our lips the term 'God' becomes blasphemous," said the Emory University professor. "The use of the term is to refuse the movement of our age and to attempt to return to an unrecoverable age."

Altizer said it was wrong to consider God an alien, oppressive empty being.

"It is good news to know that God is dead," he said. "We can rejoice and live and love in the world as flesh."

God, as he has been historically pictured, has ceased to exist because Christ has become the incarnation in the world of fullness of God himself, Altizer said.

Pike, whose views once resulted in heresy charges, said he agreed with much that had been said.

CONCEPT DEAD

"The fraternity pledge-master concept of God is dead," Pike said.

"The God of vengeance, the God of the Old Testament who admonished the Israelites to dash the heads of enemy children against the stones is dead. If he weren't dead he should be."

Pike did dispute Altizer's contention that God had ceased to be because of the incarnation of Christ.

"If He was, He is," Pike said. "If He isn't, He wasn't."

About 1,000 persons heard the discussion.

Reagan's Massive Tax Program Goes To 'Graveyard' Committee

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's massive tax program today was shunted into the legislature's toughest committee—and there were indications it may stay there.

For an undisclosed reason, the bill by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, was sent to the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee by the Senate's Democratic leadership.

The committee, headed by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, has passed out virtually no bills since it was organized. It is a traditional graveyard for bills.

TERM BILL KILLED

Earlier in the session, the committee killed an administration-backed measure to limit California governors to two terms. Reagan had backed such legislation during his campaign for governor.

Administration sources expressed surprise that the bill went to the governmental efficiency committee. They had expected it to be heard by the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee headed by Sen. Walter Stiern, D-Bakersfield. Deukmejian is vice chairman of that committee.

Reagan outlined the tax program Tuesday in a special message to both houses of the legislature, and Deukmejian introduced the bill.

Unique Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink Hemorrhoids Without Surgery ...Except In Unusually Severe Or Persistent Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): A well-known research institute has discovered a substance which has the ability to actually shrink hemorrhoids without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases.

In case after case the sufferer first notices relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance starts right in to gently reduce the swelling.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, a Southern Clinic and a Midwest Medical Center all proved this so. The secret is this special substance (Bio-Dyne)—now offered in both suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements more comfortable, and soothes irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this substance. No prescription is needed.

Negro Church Hit By Fire In Alabama

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A Negro church in Lowndes County, Ala., was destroyed by fire today and an explosion heavily damaged a Project Headstart headquarters in Liberty, Miss.

The fire which leveled the wooden Macedonia Baptist Church at Fort Deposit, Ala., broke out while FBI agents were only 20 miles away in the same county to investigate a fire yesterday that destroyed offices used by an anti-poverty workers.

The federal agents were called to investigate all three incidents to determine whether they were related to a series of

Police Send Man To Napa Hospital For Observation

A Sausalito man, apparently under the influence of a hallucinogenic drug, was taken in tow by San Rafael police Saturday night and sent to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric observation.

Police responded to a report that three men were carrying a fourth, shouting and gesturing, down E Street. They found Roland Huddleston, 28, of 517 West Knowles Street, Sausalito, being helped along the street by three other men. Police said Huddleston was speaking incoherently and making violent gestures.

One of the three men, David R. McFadden of 215 Marin Street, San Rafael, told police Huddleston had been taken to his home by two unidentified men. When Huddleston began shouting, the three decided to take him "somewhere else," but apparently had no destination in mind.

Korean Premier Launches Tour

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Korean Premier Yi Kwan Chung continues to Philadelphia today on his five-city visit of the United States.

Almonte Boulevard Rezoning On Agenda

A recommendation by the county planning staff that a strip of commercial zoning on Almonte Boulevard be rezoned to multiple-family residential will be considered by Mill Valley Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in City Hall.

Planning Dir. Harvey E. Bragdon said he would propose that the commission endorse the recommendation, with provision that open area be provided in each parcel.

Hub Woman Is Injured Novato Crash

A San Anselmo woman driver was injured at 7:09 p.m. yesterday when her car hit a utility pole on Davidson Avenue, south of Lamont Avenue in Novato.

Mrs. Jane Carolyn Pierard, 49, of 26 Belle Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated for head and face cuts at Novato Hospital. Her husband, Ernest G. Pierard, and stepson, Kim R. Adams, 14, both passengers, were examined at the hospital but found uninjured.

A 16-year-old driver suffered minor injuries Friday at 4:12 when a car skidded out of control on the reverse curve on San Marin Drive and hit a utility pole, Novato police reported.

TUTORING — Honor Society members at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael voluntarily tutor students in the county's class for pupils who find learning difficult.

Honor Students Tutoring The Educable Handicapped

By PAT PERRY

Long, straight hair sweeping the desk, the two girls bent over the arithmetic book and worked out the fraction multiplication together.

The same age, the same school, yet one is president of the honor society, the other less academically able and in the class for the educable mentally retarded.

In a program that has expanded over the last three years, members of Davidson Junior High School's honor society have volunteered to tutor those students who find learning difficult. Fourteen eighth and seventh grade students, all of whom have achieved outstanding grades in academic subjects, work at least one period a week with students in Mrs. Beverley Tanem's special class.

From all over the county, the students for the special class are bused to the San Rafael school, but apart from physical education classes they previously had little contact with the rest of the student body.

That's all changed now; meeting their tutors on an individual basis regularly, they've found not only assistance with their school work but friends too.

Mrs. Tanem enthusiastically endorsed the tutoring. "The 18 students in my class span first through sixth grade; there are seven reading groups, seven different math groups, so this individual tutoring is very valuable," she said. "And everyone looks forward to it."

English teacher Mrs. Marie McClendon, sponsor for the honor society, said the 14 tutors volunteered for the task. They give up a physical education or creative arts class for the job.

Few of the students intend to be teachers, yet all have taken to the experience like ducks to water.

Presently tutoring are Frances Coulter, Ann Ekman, Sherry Gelpman, Mary Heare, Carol Hill, Mark Jordan, Carol Swain, Toni Mehocich and Steve Widgren, eighth graders. Also seventh graders Nancy Levinsohn, Gladys Mendelson, Tamara Ready, Kathy Widgren, and Nancy Walker.

Mrs. Tamen's students are just as enthusiastic about the project as the tutors. When one tutor ran for student body secretary in a recent school election, they voted en bloc for her.

Teachers' Pay On Lagunitas Board Agenda

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Room 2 of the school to discuss teacher salaries and the building program.

The teachers presented a proposal last week asking for raises of 5 per cent and upwards, at an estimated additional cost of $8,000 to $9,000. Salaries this year total approximately $175,000.

Merit pay for teachers and how it might be applied in the district will also be discussed.

The school's $540,000 building program will be discussed. A new building for kindergarten through sixth grade will be built next to the present school with $250,000 in bond money and a $290,000 state loan.

Club Vandalism

Donald M. Wood, director of the Star Club, reported to the Marin County Sheriff's Office Saturday that vandals spread paint and wrote obscene words on the outside walls of the building at 100 Sacramento Avenue, San Anselmo.

Octuplets, Birth Pills Gap Studied

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican doctors are trying to determine whether birth control pills had anything to do with the birth of octuplets to Maria Teresa Lopez de Sepulveda. All eight children died within 13 hours of birth.

Doctors at the hospital where the infants died said they are using autopsy results to see if they can find a definite link between the birth control pills taken by the mother and the multiple births.

Mrs. Sepulveda, 21, took birth control pills for about a year, but stopped taking them about eight months before the birth of the four boys and four girls last Friday.

The birth of octuplets has been recorded twice before in this century — in Mexico in 1921 and in China in 1934.

Dr. Kurt Ambrosius Diener, director of pathology at the 20th of November hospital, performed autopsies on the eight children before their burial. He said final results will not be ready for a week or 10 days but they apparently died because of underdeveloped respiratory systems.

The doctor also said the mother and father would be asked to submit to physical examinations next week. The father, Genaro, 24, is a bookkeeper for the Mexican Social Security Institute.

Building Program To Be Discussed

Mill Valley School District's 37-member advisory committee will discuss the building program with trustees at 8 p.m. today in Old Mill School, 352 Throckmorton Avenue.

A special election is to be held June 13 on a bond measure of more than $3 million to finance the building program, to include a "middle school" and improvement of existing schools.

Also on the agenda is a request from Homestead School Parent-Teacher Association for a recreation program at the school.

Students Can Benefit From Tour Of Capitol

Columns with differing points of view on national and state affairs appear on these pages. We print them, not because we always agree with the columnists but because our readers are entitled to all shades of opinion, including those that contradict each other.

Today, for example, our colleague in Sacramento, Henry C. MacArthur, expounds on the "insane waste of public funds" by allowing school children to roam through the state Capitol.

We disagree sharply with Mr. MacArthur's views and take this occasion to say so, lest our legislators, Sen. Jack McCarthy and Assemblyman Bill Bagley, jump to the conclusion that, by printing his column below, we are endorsing MacArthur's ideas on this subject.

It is true that youngsters cannot be expected to absorb the workings of state government during their few hours under the Capitol dome. At the same time, under the guidance of skillful and knowledgeable teachers or guides, the trip through the Capitol can be a valuable experience to bridge the gap between theories taught in class and an on-the-spot view of government in action.

Students who observe that legislative business is being transacted in more than one place at one time, and that many committee hearings are going on simultaneously will be better able to appreciate the difficulty of keeping tab on the 5,000-plus bills that go through the hopper each year.

If the students see how easily bills are modified in committee hearings, they will get a better idea of why a bill introduced can finally emerge from a committee looking like a different animal.

The Speaker of the House or the President Pro-Tem of the Senate might be phrases with no meaning in a classroom textbook. But they come alive when students actually see them in action. Youngsters who formerly took little or no interest in state government may return from a Capitol tour with a completely new interest in the subject.

The old portion of the Capitol building embodies history and tradition. A well-informed teacher or a Capitol guide can make a Capitol visit a memorable and inspiring experience for the young.

We find it difficult to understand how a man like Henry MacArthur, who usually takes such a practical approach to public problems, can oppose an effort to expose youth to the practical side of government as distinguished from book-learning and theory.

It is even conceivable that the taxpayers, who support public education, will get more for their money during the few hours that young people spend in Sacramento than for a similar period spent in classrooms back home.

Silver Bells

Flocks of Thurber juncos are flitting about Marin now, making their metallic tick, tick sound, like that of tiny silver bells.

Neighbors report that the juncos on their feeding tray move over to make room for the wee chickadees, although they are much larger than the latter.

Perhaps birds, too, have feelings of compassion for those smaller and weaker than themselves. Who can deny it? Despite all our research and wisdom, there are vast unexplored areas in the realm of bird thought and feeling.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Are Unnecessary Funds Spent For Capitol School Tours?

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Many times in the past, this column has pointed out the insane waste of public funds occasioned by the holiday trips of thousands of school students to the state Capitol.

Expenditure of these funds is from the local school districts, which proposed "tax relief" programs are supposed to help.

Although local school administrators long have recognized the holiday trip for students and teachers alike as possibly a wholly useless dispensation of tax money, they still have done nothing to halt the picnic.

RATHER, THE trips appear to become more frequent, as students from all parts of the state pour into Sacramento, at all times of the day, and during days in the week when the state legislature isn't even in session.

The state Capitol maintains a staff to schedule the trips, and show the youngsters around. The state pays for this service out of the general fund, which has been on its uppers for some time.

THE LOCAL SCHOOL districts pay for the time of the chaperones, the teachers who accompany the students, the bus drivers, and own or charter the buses which roll with amazing frequency into Sacramento, taking up a block and a half of parking space, for which the city otherwise would obtain revenue.

The buses disgorge youngsters by the score, many of them carrying big picnic hampers and portable iceboxes, all set for a rare old time in Capitol park.

They fill the halls of the Capitol, and in some vague manner, find out there might be a legislature in session.

The Senate and Assembly do not read their names any more — the kids aren't old enough to vote—but they do take time out to announce who accompanies the classes. The chaperones are old enough to vote.

IN THE AFTERNOONS, tired and happy, the children leave for home. They've seen Sacramento, at public expense, although under the current school government theory that all education is free to everybody except the long-suffering taxpayers, the kids probably don't give the bill even a first thought, let alone a second.

On some days, a dozen or more buses, none of them small, are lined up along the street, all of them carrying elementary grade students. Theoretically, the children are expected to learn something about government from the trip. Actually, what they learn no doubt could be written on the proverbial postage stamp.

THE CONTINUED reluctance of the school districts to put some meaning into a junket to Sacramento, by making it a prize for scholarship or excellence in government classes, merely mirrors the total disregard the school administrators have for the public good, not to mention the public pocketbook.

Although the cost of one school trip may appear infinitesimal, a combination of many with tens of thousands of children milling around the Capitol on a willy-nilly excursion, over a period of years can amount up into important money. But then, who cares, as long as it's only the taxpayers' money?

Kill The Rats To Lessen Crime

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At a risk of being called names by a bunch of bleeding hearts I'd like to express my opinion about death penalty. I believe in it, not just for first degree premeditated murder but also for kidnapers and dope peddlers. A man or woman who sells drugs to anyone to turn them into dope addicts, especially to school children, is a lot worse than a murderer. When your house is invaded by rats or cockroaches you exterminate them, and all they do is mess up your house, not your life, so when dope peddlers mess up the life of anyone, he is worse than a rat or a poisonous spider, so why not exterminate them too?

Many crimes have been committed by dope addicts in order to get money to buy more drugs from the rats that started them on the road to crime, so if you exterminate the rats, you start a good job on crime prevention.

Opposition To Consular Treaty

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am opposed to the Consular Treaty with the Soviet Union as long as we are at war with the Communists.

I would have opposed a Consular Treaty with Germany when we were at war with the Nazis.

The Consular Treaty is a typical Communist trick to merge us into a one world socialist government, with the Communists in complete control.

The Consular Treaty would allow the Communists to set up embassies in every major city in the United States in which to carry on their espionage work. As our F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover, has repeatedly warned, they are masters of deceit.

Have the Communists changed their plans? Have they repent? Have they stopped shipping guns and supplies to North Viet Nam with which to kill and maim our boys?

If you are against this treaty write your Congressman and your Senators and Senator Dirksen. This bill is now before Congress and is expected to be voted on this month.

The way to write your Senator is:

Sen. George Murphy (or Senator Thomas H. Kuchel) Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Tell them what you think about people who trade in the blood of American G.I's.

When we are asked to supply equipment to manufacture fertilizer for the Communist countries remember this same equipment that produces nitrates for fertilizer is used to produce gun powder.

Remember, your influence counts, use it.

'Old Tiburon' Idea Is Backed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As an owner of the five parcels of waterfront property between 1 Main Street and the Caprice Restaurant which have been the subject of much comment in your letters to the editor section, I would like to provide to you and your readers the results of studies made to determine the cost to the city of acquiring and developing these properties as suggested by some of your correspondents.

It is the opinion of the independent specialists that the cost of acquisition and development of the waterfront properties, with full consideration to the desires and needs of the City, is conservatively estimated at $2,150,000. Assuming the City could finance this cost on the most favorable terms, municipal bonding specialists have advised that the annual bond payments would be $125,000 which with the present assessed valuation, would result in a 77 cent increase in the City tax rate. . . . an increase of nearly two and one-half times the present tax rate.

The city must determine if it is in a position to finance an acquisition and development. If this is not economically possible, I would endeavor to bring about the development of the waterfront properties in the character and atmosphere of "Old Tiburon," with full access to the waterfront by the public, exclusive pedestrian areas, malls, squares, small well-designed buildings, etc., all qualities of a good development which are sadly lacking today. Such a new development would be an asset to the community and a center for the residents to congregate and visit, as well as making a well needed contribution to the revenues of the city.

Airman's Letter Evaluates War

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thank you for printing Airman Rosso's letter (March 6, 1967). He is certainly in a better position than most of us to evaluate our need of being in Vietnam.

As for the pacifist minority which evokes more headlines and publicity than it warrants, I can only try to understand them. This minority group seems to be a young group in general. These people were raised during a time of great prosperity and growth in this country. Even during the Korean war when most of them were youngsters the country prospered greatly. They have yet to face real adversity in the world. The vocal college and university groups that denounce the war are made up of young people who haven't even been around long enough to know what life and living are all about.

When these people get older, have families, and establish themselves in our society, I think they will realize that our principles and ideals are worth fighting for.

I detest the war as much as anyone, but if we have to meet our adversaries head-on it may as well be in Vietnam. After all, they started it, and have had numerous opportunities to end it.

Argument Over Vietnam Policy Sounds Like A Broken Record

WASHINGTON — The argument over Vietnam is at a dead end.

In this country the Johnson administration and its critics are simply repeating what they have long been saying. They sound like a record with the needle stuck.

But so do the North Vietnamese and the Communist world.

UNLESS PRESIDENT Johnson yields to his critics here, which is unlikely, and unless the North Vietnamese make concessions, which seems unlikely, this war is probably destined to continue indefinitely.

Johnson again Thursday at his news conference stated this government's position.

1. It wants peace. It wants to get peace talks started. Five times it stopped bombing North Vietnam, hoping the enemy would use the pauses to give some sign they wanted to talk. They didn't.

2. The bombing will continue unless the North Vietnamese are willing to indicate — in order to get talks started — they will tone down their fighting if the American bombing stops.

JOHNSON MADE two other points: He doesn't think the North Vietnamese can win; and he said in effect he thinks the North Vietnamese believe that if the criticism continues the American position will weaken and they will wind up ahead.

This can be interpreted as meaning Johnson thinks the criticism here at home is encouraging the North Vietnamese to continue fighting.

Two distinguished men, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., who was an assistant to both Johnson and President John F. Kennedy, pretty well represent the kind of criticism Johnson gets.

SCHLESINGER WAS harsher. He doubts the administration is sincere in saying it wants peace. This is the only interpretation which can be placed on a statement he made this week.

He said he has concluded the administration "does not wish to negotiate now" and that the urgent need is to "explore every opportunity to slow down the war." He suggests this country scale it down.

Meanwhile the Communist world — meaning North Vietnam and the Soviet Union — have said there must be a "definitive" pause in the bombing before anything can be done toward peace. And one North Vietnamese diplomat in Cairo said the pause must be "permanent."

UNLESS JOHNSON, of course, announced a "definitive" or "permanent" pause meant no more bombing ever, how long would it take the North Vietnamese to decide it was forever? This point has never been discussed in public.

There has even been argument over "definitively" and "permanent" and whether definitive means permanent. Johnson said, so far as he is concerned, what the Communists mean, no matter how they put it, is a permanent pause.

Now all sides are locked in their stated positions. But one thing is always overlooked by those who are arguing for more time and concessions for the North Vietnamese to see if they will be willing to talk peace.

IT'S THIS: They have had plenty of time, and various outlets, for making it clear they will discuss peace if the Americans do so and so. So far they have never made any of this clear.

Meanwhile, month after month, Johnson has protested he wants peace and is willing to go a long way out of his way to get it. Yet, he is the one who gets the criticism.

While he dealt mildly with his critics yesterday, he did take one crack at them in answer to a direct question. He said some of them don't have enough information before they sound off.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Reuther Attempts Third Labor Front

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, is trying to put together a new nationwide labor alliance.

Since he quit as AFL-CIO vice president last month, Reuther has held backstage talks aimed at setting up a loosely knit federation with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

In one unannounced meeting with Teamster boss Hoffa, before he began serving his federal jail sentence, and ILWU President Bridges, the fiery Reuther proposed that the three unions join forces this year to form an alliance of transportation and industrial unions.

THE NEW LABOR combine, with its base of power in the transportation and automobile industries, could in a few years, according to Reuther, become as powerful as the present AFL-CIO.

Although no informal or formal agreements came out of this "big three" meeting, labor insiders reported that officials of the unions agreed to continue their discussions with another teamster official to be designated by Hoffa.

Despite the lack of results, the Reuther-Bridges-Hoffa meeting is considered highly significant, since it was the first time in recent years these powerful labor leaders had gotten together.

THE THREE UNIONS, if linked in one federation, would have a combined membership of 2,760,000 compared to 13,500,000 in the AFL-CIO. The Teamsters is the largest with 1,500,000. The UAW, composed of 29 unions, has 1,200,000.

The ILWU, which controls the West Coast docks, has 60,000. Like the Teamsters, the ILWU is an independent union. Bridges split with the CIO over the Communist issue in 1949, but not before he had extended CIO influence across a broad span of Western states as its regional director. The UAW is part of CIO, which joined the AFL to forge the giant AFL-CIO federation in 1956.

Union officials, watching this labor development for President George Meany, are saying Reuther's decision on whether or not to pull the UAW out of the AFL-CIO will depend on his success in forming the new group.

IF NOTHING comes of the present talks, these officials believe Reuther will keep the UAW in the AFL-CIO to hold his powerful base as head of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department.

This department, with which Reuther can do about as he pleases, represents nearly half of the present AFL-CIO membership. In the past, Reuther has used the office to help launch such outside projects as Citizens Crusade on Poverty and the civil rights march on Washington.

The growing Meany-Reuther rift, which triggered the latter's recent resignation as one of the 27 vice presidents on the AFL-CIO executive council, is about ready to boil over again.

The two labor leaders have their staffs preparing papers dealing with expenditures by AFL-CIO unions in foreign policy projects and in helping unions abroad.

At Last, Adoption May Be Near On West Marin Plan

Some say, in this dark wilderness, that a master plan is only a guide. Others say it is more than that, others say less and still others are wondering if master plans should be taken seriously at all.

I know it is hard to take by now, but take for a minute this West Marin Master Plan. It brought great interest and even some enthusiasm when it was first introduced. Hearings to explain and discuss it brought large crowds.

BUT THAT was three years ago. The plan still has not been adopted and when it comes before the planning commission, there are few in attendance. Even the consultants who drew up the plan have stopped coming to the meetings.

The planning commission appears about ready to recommend the plan at its next meeting a week from today. Don't expect any dancing in the streets. People are too tired for that.

Actually, the plan was recommended to supervisors once before. That was on Jan. 17 of last year by 4-1 vote of the commission. Supervisors held a hearing on the plan May 17 last year, but subsequently, they sent the plan back to the commission to consider conflicts between it and another county plan, the one on parks and open space.

YOU WOULD think these conflicts could have been worked out easily, but while the plan was in commission hands, the earthquake issue came under serious debate. It looked at one point as if the entire western reach of Marin was going to slip into the sea without the benefit of any master plan.

BUT SUPERVISORS said to forget about earthquakes, at least for a while.

The recorded history of the West Marin Master Plan goes back to circa May, 1964, when it was introduced by Dan Coleman and Harold and Mary Summers. They prepared the plan under a state-federal planning grant for $39,449.

And several months prior to that there were displays of the plan in progress.

Should the planning commission recommend adoption of the plan a week from today, it will go before supervisors for at least one more public hearing. Then the plan could be adopted, becoming an official document of the County of Marin, joining several other official documents.

BUT ADOPTION of the plan will leave several matters unsettled.

For one thing, no one knows yet where or if the realigned Highways 1 and 17 will be. And the density, much debated in the hearings long ago, might have to be changed, according to how the septic tank-sewer system debate is resolved.

Further, the planning commission is saying that the plan might have to be changed should information be developed on earthquake hazards.

Also, the zoning needed to enforce the uses envisioned in the plan probably will not be adopted for some months to come — maybe years. County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said he did not expect to get to the zoning right away, but it would be his intention to try to hold back developments in conflict with the plan until the zoning is adopted.

ONE REASON for waiting on zoning is Zucker's proposal to rewrite the county zoning ordinance. It would make more sense to have that revision in hand before rezoning West Marin.

If a master plan then really is a guide, it is a very slow and heavy-footed guide at best. You can hardly blame some for thinking perhaps the guide is lost. Nor can you blame those who advocate leaving the guide behind. They think they can find their own way through the wilderness a lot faster.

Go Forth Adam And Sin No More, You're Forgiven

WASHINGTON—It has been said that the reason the House of Representatives treated Adam Clayton Powell so badly is because Powell refused to show any humility. How different everything would have been if the ex-congressman (at least for the moment) had thrown himself on the mercy of the House and asked forgiveness.

"Adam Clayton Powell, please step forward."

"Yassuh, boss."

"It has been charged that you have insulted this body of lawmakers."

"Ah'm a sinner. Amen."

"THAT YOU PUT your wife on your payroll although she did no work and received no checks."

"Ah did the taxpayers wrong. Lordy Lord."

"That you furthermore used an airline credit card for personal trips to Florida for yourself and your beautiful secretary and that you spent in excess of $40,000 of government money."

"Praised be the government and all its good works."

"Adam Clayton Powell, you have lived high on the hog for 20 years. Your absenteeism record is known to all of us, and your contempt of court citation in New York still hangs over your head."

"HOW COULD ah have done it after the white folks have been so good to me?"

"This House cannot allow anyone to violate its rules nor can it allow anyone to be guilty of unethical conduct, particularly if it gets in the newspapers."

"Ah have seen the light. May ah be struck down during a filibuster if ah sin once more."

"It isn't enough to say you're sorry, Adam. You must be made an example of or every congressman will be putting his wife on his payroll and taking his secretary to Bimini."

"Let me be punished; let the full force of this House crash down on my head; and then let me dwell in the House of Representatives forever and ever."

"ADAM CLAYTON Powell, this body is impressed by your humility and we want to do everything we can to make your punishment as light as possible."

"Ah beg to differ with you, suh, but ah think ah should get the full treatment. What ah have done is unforgivable. If you show me mercy then ah will not feel ah have been forgiven. You must purge me of my guilt, for only then will ah be able to shave and look at myself in the morning."

"What should we do with you, Adam?"

"Let me pick a bale of cotton, pick a bale a day."

"That would be too harsh."

"AH COULD TOTE a barge and lift a bale and if ah got a li'l drunk ah could land in jail?"

"I don't think that would be constitutional."

"But you don't understand, suh. Mah heart is weary and ah'm sick of tryin'. Ah'm tired of livin' and 'feared of dyin'."

"Sing it, Adam."

"But ole man river, he just keeps rollin' along."

"As you can see, Adam, there isn't a dry eye in the House. We're going to let you take your seat, because we're a forgiving people in this body, and when we see a man as humble as you, we can only say 'go forth, Brother, and sin no more.'"

"THANK YOU, boss. Ah'll jes go and take mah seat in the back."

Education Board Sets 'High Times' Discussion

High Times, countywide newspaper produced by high school students, will be discussed by the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m., tomorrow at the district headquarters, Third and E streets.

The board has received demands that distribution of the newspaper be halted at San Rafael and Terra Linda High School campuses.

Protestors charged the newspaper is "left-wing" and should not be distributed on campuses because it is not directly under control of school authorities.

Supt. John F. Plank will recommend, however, that San Rafael High School District cooperate in a plan for support of the publication under closer control of participating districts.

Summer School Decision On Tap

The Kentfield School District Board, meeting today at 8 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School, will decide whether to hold a summer school this year.

If a summer session is decided on, the board may set dates and appoint a principal.

The board will continue consideration of salaries for teachers and classified employees, and discussion of flood control. District policy on sabbatical leaves may be reviewed.

Mrs. Elna Farr, a kindergarten teacher at Greenbrae School, seeks permission to take a sabbatical leave. Mrs. Jean Larkin, a second grade teacher at Wolfe Grade School now on a leave of absence, has submitted her resignation.

Finance Committee Will Make Report

Sausalito School District's finance committee will report to trustees at 8 p.m. today on how to finance building of a school plant for all pupils in the district at the Bayside School site. The committee has been studying sales value of other school sites, which would be sold to finance the building program.

Also slated for consideration is discussion of a school site in Marinello.

Remember when you used to pay $33.00 to fly to Los Angeles?

Well, PSA changed all that. Now it's $11.43.

It's true. PSA pioneered low air fares. And what did it get us? Well, lots of passengers for one thing. Oh yes, and some competition from other airlines who were forced to lower their fares from time to time.

So what do we want—a medal? No, but it might be nice if you bought a ticket sometime. Especially since we still have the lowest air fares.

Underground Phone Lines On Agenda

Utility lines may be put underground on part of Hilary Drive when new sidewalks are installed, if the Tiburon City Council approves a proposal by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., at its meeting at city hall at 8 p.m. today.

The telephone company would do the underground work in connection with extension of Hilary Drive by the city, already approved by the council.

A report is expected from City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose and Public Works Supt. Louis H. Brunini on their studies of sites for a public works headquarters.

Brunini is asking the council to authorize purchase of a road roller for $2,500 and a road roller for $1,350, both of which were budgeted for this year.

Councilmen Gordon W. Strawbridge and William R. Bremer are due to report on Earl L. Bailey's application to operate a taxi service in Tiburon.

City engineer Ray W. Foreaker is recommending the council authorize an agreement with the State Division of Highways to use gasoline tax funds in reconstruction of the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard, Main Street and Paradise Drive.

Up for adoption will be ordinances regulating the removal of trees on private property, establishing a 15-mile-per-hour speed limit on part of Hilary Drive, and prohibiting motorcycle riding on unimproved roads in the city.

Plane Search To Resume If Weather Clears

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — Weather permitting, a search continues today for a light plane which left Beaverton, Ore., three days ago with three persons aboard.

Fog and snow squalls yesterday hampered search efforts for the plane, which was last heard from at 10:50 a.m. Saturday en route to San Francisco.

Aboard were pilot Alvin Oien, 58, Portland, his wife, Phillis, and their daughter, Carla, 15.

The plane was believed to have made it into northern California but two search aircraft only examined lower levels of the Siskiyou Mountains south of here because of the weather. Oien and his family left Saturday morning to meet a son, Alvin Jr., in San Francisco for his spring vacation.

Minor Injuries In Pole Crash

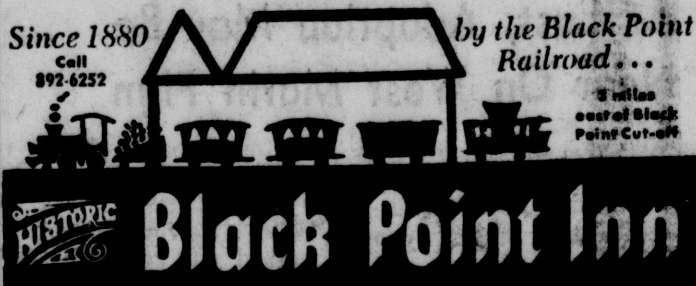

Richard Charles Russell, 24, of Woodacre suffered minor injuries when his car slid into a power pole beside Highway 101 south of San Quentin Wye at 11:10 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Russell was driving south when his car slid on wet pavement and struck the pole roadside, officers said. Marin General Hospital reported he was treated for an injured left hand.

"The Mercedes-Benz 230S is over-engineered," say the critics. A welcome excess, say the facts.

Up front in the 230S is an exotic, single overhead camshaft Six. Underneath, one of the most sophisticated suspension designs outside the racing world. And the 230S doesn't really need its 9.9-inch front disc brakes. Sheer engineering extravagance—or something better? Read on, then decide for yourself.

SOME critics claim that the Mercedes-Benz 230S uses unique technical features when something more mundane would do. That it's "over-engineered."

The Publisher of Car and Driver magazine recently summed up the case for the 230S:

"It has more than enough brakes for its potential speed. It has the capacity to go around a corner much, much faster than anybody's ever going to go. It rides very well. The seats are designed to sustain loads and provide comfort over a longer period of time than anyone is ever going to sit in them. It's a 100 percent kind of automobile."

To those who view a car as a machine and not an image builder, this "over-engineering" makes eminent good sense. And makes the 230S well worth its $5046* price. Some reasons for that price—and some answers to the charge of "over-engineering":

"Everybody in America is going fast today, but how many of us can stop?"

—David E. Davis Jr.

The 230S can stop—and stop and stop and stop. Two strong reasons: a 9.9-inch disc brake on each front wheel.

Designed for 150-mph racing cars, disc brakes banish the threat of fade in repeated hard use. The threat of brake "lock-up" is vastly reduced. Water and dust have little effect.

Extra benefits at no extra cost: A power assist that takes the work out of braking, and dual circuit brake lines that remove the possibility of total brake failure.

"It will go down a nasty little one-lane country road just as well as it goes down the New York Thruway"

—Automotive editor

It has to. Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 156 countries where nasty little one-lane country roads are often the only roads. A spongy "boulevard" ride won't do in Afghanistan or Iceland. Mercedes-Benz engineers had to come up with something better.

Their solution, borrowed from racing experience: a fully independent, rear swing axle suspension.

You can slam the 230S over a railway crossing and it won't still be bouncing half a mile down the road. You can travel corkscrew mountain passes and enjoy the ride. If so inclined, you could smoothly sweep around a racing circuit—without as much as pumping up the tires beforehand.

Another reason for the roadability in every 230S: standard equipment in every 230S includes heavy-duty shock absorbers, heavy-duty coil springs, front anti-sway bar, hydro-pneumatic load leveler at the rear axle, and 4-ply, super-premium grade tires. There's no extra charge for a 4-speed floor shift, either.

No gasping or guzzling

Those big V-8's can cruise at 90 mph—at 8 miles per gallon or so. Tiny engines sip fuel, but at 65 mph they're gasping for breath.

The 230S gives you the best of both: its 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine could run at a restful 90 mph for hours, yet doesn't guzzle gas in normal driving.

This design was originally intended for the brutal stresses of racing. The engine is built up to near racing tolerances—as fine as .019 of a millimeter for bearings.

And it's built on a snail's-pace assembly line, where sample engine blocks are snatched away at random, chopped in half, and every dimension scientifically measured.

"They don't build them like they used to"

—modern American lament

Mercedes-Benz presents radiator medallions to owners who have clocked 62,500, 125,000, and over 312,000 miles. The demand is steady.

A contributing factor: the 230S body is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 points. This "unit" method of construction makes obsolete the separate frame and body type, with its nuts and bolts and rattles. Sheet metal on many body panels measures a millimeter thick (pound your fist on the 230S roof; you don't feel a wobble, you hear a "thunk!").

The 230S ranks as one of the world's sturdier cars, because Mercedes-Benz ranks as one of the world's stubbornest car builders.

"A car is not a rolling boudoir, a rocket ship or an oak-paneled library—so it shouldn't look like one!"

—industrial designer

The 230S seats five in considerable comfort. It does not lure you with stereo tape players or 443 color combinations. It doesn't have to:

"The way the switches work, the way the door handles work, the way the seat feels when you get into it, the way the ratchet on the seat recliner feels when you change the seat adjustment—all of those things add up to an overwhelming feeling of luxury."

—David E. Davis Jr.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz has received widespread publicity about its safety engineering achievements over the past several years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer, both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble should occur.

For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving—without dulling its pleasures.

But however well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the show-off, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you, too.

Going to Europe?

You can order your 250S here, pick it up while on vacation in Europe, enjoy the convenience of private motoring abroad—then bring it home when you return.

Having your own car in Europe is a guarantee of greater enjoyment; no crowded buses, no awkward train schedules. And by arranging overseas delivery, you stand to save hundreds of dollars. Firms Compete For Graduates

by PATRICIA MC CORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—On campuses nationwide recruiters for big companies are wooing those about to graduate.

The recruiters aren't down on their knees, but there are signs they have hat in hand as they compete with one another for additions to the braintrusts of firms they represent.

And, would you believe—they're offering the highest starting salaries in history!

The College Placement Council, in a salary survey of 116 colleges coast to coast, found this to be the situation. The Council said this is about the most competitive college recruitment season ever.

IN DOLLAR VALUE, the average monthly offer to non-technical candidates has increased 2.5 per cent since the start of the year, going to $611. That is a 7.2 per cent hike since one year ago.

The average for technical students has gone up to $713, a rise of 6.3 per cent since last June.

National average monthly salary offers for males, all bachelor's degree candidates, were as follows:

Accounting, $629; business administration, $609; engineering-aeronautical, $713; chemical engineering, $729; civil engineering, $696; electrical engineering, $721; industrial engineering, $700; mechanical ing, $1,205.

Average offers to candidates with a master's degree in engineering were: chemical, $849; civil, $792; electrical $860; and mechanical, $836.

Show this to junior if he's reluctant to hit the books. The way to money is the schoolway—and it's improving all the time.

For comparison, think how much of an improvement there's been.

TWENTY YEARS ago, a brand new college graduate was in a top job if he received $200 a month.

But the dollar went further then. You could get a cup of coffee for five cents.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTLE

'After My Husband Tanned Our Son Each Night, His Grades Improved'

DEAR HELEN:

Our son, who is able to earn "B's" on his report card, brought home a card with two "C's" and the rest "D's."

That did it! We decided to try a new approach. It worked.

Each night he and his dad would go out to the garage where my husband gave him 15 smacks across his rear with a belt.

That started three months ago. Today our son brought home a report card with one "C+" and all the rest "B's."

Helen, I was not in favor of my husband tanning our son every night, but, you can see, it brought results.

If all parents of lazy kids would start tonight with our method, we'd see a lot of up-grading, come June. — MOM OF SON WITH IMPROVED MARKS.

DEAR MOM:

Sorry, I think this is much too much down-grading for a little up-grading. The bad "marks" your son got at home these last three months were a mighty high price for the temporary good marks he won through fear. Surely there's a better way to teach a boy that school work is important, and learning is fun. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We used to live next door to a married couple, but we moved away, partly because the man made passes at me. I'm a happily married woman and became a little frightened.

Once in a while I go back to visit former neighbors. When this man sees me, he follows me, then walks up and down in front of the house I'm visiting until I leave.

The other day he trailed me home in his car, and now I see his car parked near our house at odd hours. I'm getting afraid to go out.

I can't tell my husband about this or there'll be a big blow-up. What to do?—YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

You must tell your husband. The man could be dangerous. At any rate, you can't handle this situation alone; and what are husbands for but to protect their wives? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please find me some kind of wife—Ending the strife of bachelor life—

(RAGTOWN BACHELOR)

DEAR BACHELOR:

My advice to you, dear suitor, Meet your fate by "date computer."

Should you clash, then you and she—

Can blame the darn machine, not me!—H.

(NOTE TO ALL YOU WHO REQUEST MATES via mail: Sorry, I'm not a matchmaker. I don't even recommend date computers unless applicants are personally and thoroughly screened first. Too risky. — H.)

Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Harold Mayfield.

Mrs. Little and her husband will be leaving Novato to live in North Dakota. Other Beta Sigma Phi pledges will receive their ritual jewels in April.

The program for the evening will be "To See and Hear" to be presented by Mrs. Gordon Biederman and Mrs. Calvin Penrod and "People" by Mrs. Martin Dean and Mrs. Gil Bazo.

Mrs. Leo Benelli, new advisor for Upsilon Gamma Chapter, will be a special guest.

Hall-Wolfe Wedding In Carmel

The wedding chapel at Highlands Inn in Carmel was the setting for the March 4 wedding of Lovey Jo Wolfe of San Francisco and Clifford W. Hall of San Rafael.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Crocker of Bethesda, Md., wore an ensemble of pale aqua silk.

Lynn Troutman of Bethesda was maid of honor. She wore a brown silk dress.

Dennis Hall of San Jose was best man for his brother.

A reception at Highlands Inn followed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School. Lt. James P. Crocker Jr. of Fort Ord is her brother.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard O. Hall of San Rafael, was graduated from San Rafael High School and San Francisco State College. He is the grandson of Mrs. Edna Hall of Petaluma and Mrs. Victoria Bettini of San Rafael.

The newlyweds will reside in San Francisco.

Episcopal Church Is Setting For Davies-Eckker Ceremony

Danny Newton Davies of Mill Valley claimed Susan Lee Eckker of San Francisco as his bride on Feb. 26 at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Murray Hammond with the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckker of Daly City, given in marriage by her father. She wore a pale green, beige and yellow plaid suit.

Ina Ketcham of San Francisco was maid of honor, and the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Davies of Mill Valley, was served by his brother, Ronald Davies of Mill Valley as best man.

A reception was held at the Mill Valley home of the bride's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pollock. The couple are living in Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Davies was graduated from Westmore High School in Daly City and attended San Mateo Junior College.

She is employed by Bancroft-Whitney, publishers, in San Francisco.

She is the sister of Leon Eckker of Daly City.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR EASTER

San Francisco: Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a shimmering action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga.

Woman's Society To Discuss Last Book Of Dr. Chappell

"The Seven Words," from a book by author Dr. Clovis G. Chappell, will be the theme of tomorrow's meeting of the Woman's Society of the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

A business meeting at 11 a.m. in the youth room will be followed by luncheon in the fellowship hall at noon with the program set for 1 p.m.

Presented by Mrs. Vera Haven, the program theme is taken from the 17th and last book of Dr. Chappell, a retired preacher who continues his ministry through his books.

Hostesses will be Mesdames Clyde Butterfield, Andrew Watt, Nita Bronson and Al Hughes with Mrs. Russell Oaks in charge of devotions.

Youths Planning Art Fair To Get Florence Funds

A group of Marin County high school students have formed a committee called Youth for Florentine Art and will stage a fair in Sausalito April 1 to raise money to help restore paintings and other art works damaged during the November floods in Italy.

On sale at the fair, held at the old Purity Store on Bridgeway, will be paintings, jewelry, pottery and other items, according to one of the students, Wendy Westerbeck.

A film on the Florence damage will be shown during the day and other entertainment will include folk singing, guitarists, poetry readings and rock 'n' roll groups.

Other students taking part include Mike Simpson, Julie Stewart, Ann Arnold, Debbie Bates, Cathy Hicks, Catherine Robyns, Paul Slobody, Muffet Hemingway, Kitty Frankforter, and Katy Jessup.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Vaudeville' Has Some Bright Spots

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — The irrepressible San Francisco Mime Troupe, which revived the tradition of minstrel shows several seasons ago, is now attempting the same feat with that hoary theatrical tradition, the vaudeville show.

"The Vaudeville Show" lacks the explosive punch of the minstrel show, and in most cases where current political barbs appear, they are out of place and fail to hit home.

Typical is the interpolation of gags about the brains — or lack of them — of President Johnson and Governor Reagan in the midst of an insanely funny drunk routine by Joseph Bella. Bella milks to absolute death the old standard of the man whose wife gives him six bottles of liquor to pour down the sink. But when he reaches the Johnson-Reagan gags, they're flat.

However, the politics are spaced widely, and in at least one case, well used. This is the song and dance by Roger Guy-Bray (it's that way on the program) and Paula Gilbert, in which they tap dance expertly and to the old tune "Darling, Do You Remember", take apart 1966 and its world happenings.

Most amusing is the Punch and Judy show voiced by Ann Willock and William Lindyn. As performers they are excellent, but the material bears the trademark of Mime impresario R. G. Davis, who seems incapable of mounting a show without at least one piece that is just in bad taste.

On the credit side is "Dr. Kronkite," a variation of an old burlesque routine, done wonderfully well by Bella, Lindyn and Miss Willock.

The second half of the evening's entertainment is an early-'30s Eddie Cantor film called "Palmy Days." It is incredibly awful.

"The Vaudeville Show" will play Thursday through Sunday nights at 8:30 at the Geary Temple, 1859 Geary Street.

Film On Spain Set Thursday

Explorer and photographer Howard Pollard will narrate in person his new color film "Spotlight on Spain" Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The showing is part of the Explorers Club series sponsored jointly by the Explorers Club of San Francisco and the Associated Students of the College of Marin.

Highlights of the film will be shot of life among the gypsies, flamenco dancing, and the Corpus Christi parade.

Argentina's 22,834-foot Mount Aconcagua is the highest point in the Western Hemisphere, says the National Geographic.

NOTICE

A MESSAGE TO PERSONS WHO HAVE PURCHASED TICKETS TO SEE THE FILM VERSION OF JAMES JOYCE'S "ULYSSES" AND WHO HAVE NOT READ THE BOOK.

Persons who have read the controversial classic "ULYSSES" are familiar with James Joyce's use of words. The film "ULYSSES" has now been faithfully brought to the screen and is presented in its unexpurgated form.

James Joyce's "ULYSSES" was published in 1922 but did not enter the United States until 1933, when Justice John M. Woolsey of the U.S. District Court declared: "In 'ULYSSES,' in spite of its unusual frankness, I do not detect anywhere the leer of the sensualist. I hold, therefore, that it is not pornographic."

Despite the above opinion, some people will find the language in "ULYSSES" shocking and embarrassing. If you are among the many ticket holders for any of the performances of "ULYSSES" on March 14th, 15th or 16th, and wish to reconsider your decision to attend, the box office will refund the admission price if your ticket is turned in no later than March 14. The above message is directed primarily toward those persons unfamiliar with the Joyce masterpiece.

WARNING: Admission to "ULYSSES" will be denied to all persons under eighteen (18) years of age. There will be no exceptions.

Blaze Destroys Home In Fairfax

A fire, believed to have started in an overstuffed chair, swept through the rented home of David Ward at 99 Spruce Road, Fairfax, last night, causing damage estimated at $10,000. No one was home when a neighbor reported seeing the blaze at 11:30 p.m., said Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton. By the time the first fire truck arrived the hillside home was almost engulfed. "There was no doubt it must have been smoldering for some time before it was spotted," said the chief. "The heat inside was so intense a great deal of damage was caused by scorching."

Firemen fought the blaze for three hours and prevented it from spreading to adjoining homes. Interior furnishings, including a record collection, paintings and television set were extensively damaged. The outside walls were damaged by scorching so much they may have to be removed, said Thornton. The cause was under investigation today, he said, but firemen had traced it to starting in a chair. Chief Thornton guessed a cigarette may have been the cause. The Ward family had left to attend a show about two hours before the outbreak was spotted.

Alternate Site For Montessori School On Tap

An official of Montessori School revealed plans yesterday to consider an alternate site to the old Coleman School for construction of a new building in San Rafael.

John Lord of Ross, president of the school board of directors, said Robert Menzies of Kentfield, owner of property at 1428 Mission Avenue, would go before the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to apply for a use permit for construction of a school there. Lord said directors plan to consider this site for a new four-classroom school as well as the old Coleman School property at 1711 Grand Avenue. A use permit was granted to owners of the school property Jan. 24 for a Montessori School.

The Montessori School, with two current locations in San Rafael, is private and non-profit. Named after Italian educator Maria Montessori, it emphasizes physical activity and informal, individual instruction.

The planning commission also will conduct a public hearing on a use permit application to turn an old factory at 502 Irwin Street into a teen-age dance hall and entertainment center.

The application, by San Rafael plumber Ernest Ongaro, has been opposed by the police department.

Ongaro, owner of the property, has said maximum attendance at teen-age events would be between 200 and 300. Activities, he said, would include a week-day canteen for after-school use and weekend dances featuring local bands.

Design Review

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments will consider revision of the town zoning ordinance provisions on design review for fences Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

Mill Valley Resident Reports Console Theft

Theft of a $600 radio-phonograph console was reported Saturday to Mill Valley police by William J. Willin, 511 East Blithedale Avenue. Also taken were a radio, clock and razor worth $380.

They were stolen from his apartment, Willin said, Friday night. A window was broken to get into the downstairs duplex, police said.

Frank J. Levey, 81 Fairway Drive, Mill Valley, reported Saturday to police that on Thursday a small hole had been cut in a window in an attempt to enter his home. Nothing was missing, he reported.

Sixteen automobile antennas, broken off cars in a two-week rash of vandalism in Mill Valley, were found Saturday near his home by Paul C. Vogelheim, 150 Woodbine Drive, and turned over to police.

Mrs. Betty E. Symmes, 246 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, reported Saturday that a $45 electric drill was stolen from an open storage area under her home — in September. The drill was thought to be misplaced, she said, but never turned up.

Ivan Stone, 104 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, told police Friday night that vandals had broken antennas off both his cars Thursday night while they were parked in front of his home.

An unidentified projectile broke a plate glass window Friday night at Spirits Unlimited, 108 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, police reported.

Mervil Engh, 205 Ralston Avenue, Mill Valley, recovered 14 telephone pole rings Friday from two unidentified youths, police said. Engh said he was walking near his home when he scared off two youths who apparently were hiding the rings in a bush.

John E. Kessler, 23 Statnton Way, Mill Valley, reported yesterday to police that a sliding glass door to his home had been forced open sometime during the day. Nothing was missing, he said.

Fought-Over Sign Ordinance Due Plans Discussion

Novato's much-fought-over proposed sign ordinance will come before the Novato Planning Commission again when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The Downtown Merchants Assn. and Chamber of Commerce objected to provisions in the original ordinance for removal of existing signs and control over signs inside of windows.

The planning commission will also consider a lot split asked by Kaehler Construction Co. in Forest Park and a permit asked by L. J. Dervin Ford Co. for a used car lot between Highway 101 and First Street, north of Vallejo Avenue.

Civil Defense Course

A Civil Defense course sponsored by the State Bureau of Adult Education will be taught Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mara Wadley, 114 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry. Instructor will be William D. Harris, president of the Research Institute for Science, Berkeley.

ANYTHING GOES

Faculty Backing Student 'Classes'

By CAROL MARSH

What happens when college students are given a chance to study or teach, anything they want in any way they want with no pressures except those imposed by the individual on himself?

The complete answer remains to be seen, but one of the things that has been happening, as College of Marin students work toward starting their own "experimental college" within a college, is that professors are enrolling in the classes.

Enrollment for the experimental college, which offers seven courses so far, will take place tomorrow through Thursday in the Student Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Course offerings are "Culture of the Hippie," organized and taught by student Philip Brown; "Synanon," organized by student David Reichard and taught by a Synanon resident; "Contemporary Interpretation of Poetry," organized by Richard Giovannoli and taught by counselor and psychology professor John F. Gillin; "What Is a Poem?" organized and taught by student Mary Margaret Cooper; "Communications," organized by student Allen Thompson and taught by psychology professor Donald R. Holmlund; "Utopia Unlimited," a class on consciousness expansion by personal effort instead of drugs, organized and taught by student David Shore and a course on Vietnam, organized and taught by members of the student organization Students Against War.

Giovannoli, prime mover behind the college's "Controversy '66 and '67" series of lectures, is also the originator of the experimental college at College of Marin.

The experimental college will give students a chance to study whatever they want to study, to conduct classes in any way they feel is appropriate, and to learn strictly for the sake of learning, Giovannoli explained.

To start a class, a student with an idea has to find four other students who are interested, and a teacher. The teacher need not be a professional, Giovannoli explained. Anyone competent to teach the subject can serve as teacher.

Five more students must be obtained at formal enrollment, next week, before the class begins, so each class will have a minimum of 10 students.

Classes will start the first week after Easter vacation, in unused classrooms, in Student Center conference rooms, or "on the lawn," Giovannoli said.

The experimental college is equipped with its own administration, with Giovannoli as president, Elaine Elkin as vice president and Eileen O'Connell as secretary. The administration will publish a catalogue, expected to be ready by Monday, and will handle an enrollment and any problems that develop.

Giovannoli said the student body has responded enthusiastically to the idea, so far, and many professors are enrolling in the classes as students.

Freezer At Restaurant Cleaned Out

A gourmet burglar—or maybe just a hungry one—broke into a walk-in freezer early today at Pier 15 Restaurant, 15 Harbor Street, San Rafael, and lugged off hundreds of pounds of beef, turkey, shrimp, beer, and champagne.

Restaurant co-owner Fred Reynders of San Rafael estimated the loss at $493 after an inventory. The loss was discovered at 7:30 a.m. by a cook, Bing Fong, as he arrived for work. The restaurant had closed at 2 a.m.

The burglar cut a padlock off the freezer, which is outside the restaurant, with a bolt cutter and loaded the loot into a waiting vehicle, police said.

He got 100 pounds of top sirloin, 100 pounds of cross-rib roasts, 20 pounds of prime rib roasts, 25 pounds of turkey, 20 pounds of fish sticks, 100 pounds of potatoes, 10 pounds of bacon, 50 pounds of shrimp, 18 cases of beer, and 12 quarts of California champagne.

Auto Is Stolen

Theft of a red and white 1963 Triumph convertible, license MLY 817, was reported last night to Sausalito police by Roger P. Scharmer, 469 Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley. His car was stolen between 7:30 and 10 p.m., he said, while it was parked at 415 Pine Street.

Annexation Study

A committee of Sea Haven residents, studying the merits of annexing to the Inverness Public Utilities District for fire protection, will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Rollin R. Winslow home on Escondido Way in Sea Haven.

Architect Ordered To Appear Over Slide

Mill Valley architect Norman T. Gilroy has been subpoenaed to appear before the San Anselmo City Council tomorrow at 8 p.m. at city hall to explain failure to act to correct a slide hazard at 21 Loma Robles Drive on Red Hill.

The city council two weeks ago authorized City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell to proceed with grading and planting the property to prevent a slide descending on homes below. Councilmen were irked at repeated failures of owners to appear at meetings, and directed City Atty. John G. Buresh to subpoena Gilroy. He is a former owner and reportedly represents the present owners. Title to the property is in escrow, with the present owners unknown to city officials.

The council will consider a petition with 14 signatures of Fern Lane residents for speed controls on Fern Lane, and a request for restricted parking on the south side of the 700 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The one-hour parking limit for the downtown area will also be considered, as well as restricted parking opposite 27 Camino De Herrera.

Special Meeting

Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce directors will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. at 26 Miller Avenue to discuss revision of their contract with Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Field, Woodside color consultants planning a paint-up, clean-up of commercial districts. Originally planned for 80 buildings, the program has been cut back to 40 buildings.

bers to the new design review board.

The library board has asked that the council investigate damage to the library. A crack appeared over the main entrance after January rainstorms.

Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell will report on costs of having trees trimmed or removed on Tamalpais Avenue, where they are damaging sidewalks. The council will consider the installation of sidewalks on Greenfield Avenue.

A. R. Wessell has asked council attention to property damage being caused by the San Anselmo Creek at 54 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Town To Consider Zoning For Areas To Be Annexed

Corte Madera Planning Commission will consider zoning for three areas being annexed from Larkspur to Corte Madera today at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

The annexations include property on Christmas Tree Hill accessible from Summit Drive, property on Williams Avenue, and the Berkeley Co-operative property on Tamal Vista Boulevard. Zoning of the California Department of Motor Vehicles property on Tamal Vista Boulevard will also be considered.

The Marin County Day School at 5221 Paradise Drive seeks permission to expand its facilities to include property across Paradise Drive.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher will report on landscaping, driveways and other improvements needed at the Paradise Drive Shopping Center. The commission will consider a petition for the abandonment of Colony Way.

Pair Injured On Highway 101

Two women suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Highway 101 at Olive Avenue, Novato, at 11:40 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol Reported.

Officers said a car driven by Claudia June Smart, 32, of 5 Theresa Court, Novato, was westbound across the highway when it collided with a car driven by Keith Neal Connelley, 16, of Santa Rosa, southbound on the highway.

Mrs. Smart and Rosane Connelley, 37, a passenger in the Connelley car, said they would be treated by their own doctors, officers reported.

Water Service Hit For While

Water Service was interrupted for 60 homes in Belvedere yesterday when an 8-inch water main broke at Beach and Teal Roads intersection at 5:45 a.m.

Service was restored by 10:45 a.m., according to Hector P. Puccinelli, construction superintendent of Marin Municipal Water.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 13, the 72nd day of 1967 with 293 to follow.

The moon is between the new stage and first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The discoverer of oxygen, Joseph Priestly, was born on this day in 1733.

On this day in history: In 1791, Tom Paine's "The Rights of Man" was published in England.

In 1868, the Senate began impeachment proceedings against President Andrew Johnson. He was acquitted by one vote—the same year.

In 1925, the governor of Tennessee signed a law forbidding any public school teacher to teach evolution—or any theory denying the story of the divine creation of man as taught in the Bible. It was this law that was tested later in the Scopes "monkey" trial.

In 1933, banks throughout the United States started re-opening after the bank holiday President Roosevelt had declared March 5.

A thought for the day—British author Thomas Paine said it: "Suspicion is the companion of mean souls, and the bane of all good society."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters, Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Truly Cautious Expert Never Needs That Old Barrel

Sometimes people snicker at the bridge expert as being the sort of person who wears both a belt and a pair of suspenders. It may be true but when the game is over, the expert goes home still wearing his pants.

Only an expert would manage to play today's hand without having to make a rush call on his tail.

Harold Ogust, one of America's great players, let the first trick ride around to the queen of clubs in his hand.

Then he naturally went after dummy's spades—but in precisely the right way.

KING, QUEEN
Ogust cashed the king of spades and next led the queen of spades. When West followed suit to the second spade Ogust overtook with dummy's ace!

This play would cost a trick if East could follow suit, but then the spades would break favorably.

Declarer could give up a spade trick and get back to dummy with the ace of clubs to take the rest of the spades. He would then have five spade tricks, one heart, one diamond and two clubs.

BAD BREAK
As it turned out, the spades broke badly. There was no way to develop and cash the spades if declarer stood on his head.

It was for just this reason that Ogust had "wastefully" played dummy's ace of spades: he could now lead twice from the dummy to set up the diamonds in his own hand.

Ogust led the 10 of diamonds from dummy, and it didn't matter what East did. If East covered with the queen, Ogust would lose to the king of diamonds but would get back to dummy with the ace of clubs to take another diamond finesse.

If Ogust played the spades "normally," he would be able to lead diamonds only once from the dummy.

East would not cover the 10 of diamonds, and declarer would lose two diamonds and three clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one diamond, and partner has responded one heart.

The opponents pass through, and it is up to you again. You hold:

Toscanini Salute Is Fine Hour

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —No one ever gave me a finer present than the record album of Beethoven's nine symphonies as conducted by Arturo Toscanini. The union of their genius is like a handclasp atop Mount Olympus.

This is the 100th anniversary year of the late conductor's birth, and last night NBC-TV's "Telephone Hour" presented a tribute to him, including films of his telecasts, interviews with musicians who worked with him, home movies and still photographs.

It was altogether fitting that the tribute should have been offered by NBC-TV, for it was his 17 years as conductor of the NBC Symphony Orchestra—formed especially for him—that resulted, primarily through radio, in the spreading of symphonic music to the American public as probably never before. The album I mentioned above was, of course, recorded with the NBC Symphony.

The concise, pointed and excellent script for the hour was written by Harold C. Schonberg, music critic of the New York Times, who was also the narrator and on-camera interviewer. And the program quickly established the theme concerning the essential Toscanini: "He represented a force to nature." He had the ability to effect a burning focus, to get to the elements of the music he

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 7:30 p.m.—Gary Cooper, Grace Kelly, Otto Kruger and Katy Jurado star in the Western drama "High Noon" on the "Premiere" movie.

KQED (9), 8 p.m.—William Jovanovich, president of Harcourt, Brace and World, will be the guest on "Kaleidoscope."

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8:30 p.m.—Carol Burnett is the guest star in a two-part comedy on "The Lucy Show."

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m.—Pauline Trigrere, one of America's top fashion designers, will be interviewed on "The Creative Person."

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9 p.m.—Jan Sterling and Tisha Sterling guest-star as mother and daughter on "The Road West."

KQED (9), 9 p.m.—Life in a Canadian prison will be described in an hour-long Intertel documentary.

KTVU (2), 9:30 p.m.—Viewers will learn about artificial kidney centers and the transplanting of them on "Doctors' News Conference."

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m.—Allen Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, will explain the thinking behind various operations conducted by the CIA during his tenure as its head (1953-1961) on the CBS news special "In the Pay of the CIA: An American Dilemma."

conducted, and to strip away all irrelevancies. He tried to have the music performed as the composer would have wanted. "To Toscanini, the notes were enough."

He was, of course, a personal genius of immense creativity within his framework. He was a musical architect rather than a professional romantic who found

Mays Off To Fast Start

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Crowds in Scottsdale, Tucson and Phoenix greet Willie Mays with rounds of applause this spring and in the three games to date, the San Francisco Giants star responded with five hits in seven trips to the plate.

He collected a pair of singles and stole a base yesterday as the Giants played their first cactus league exhibition game in their Phoenix Stadium spring home and beat the Cleveland Indians 7-4.

Willie drove in the opening run in the first inning with a sacrifice fly, singled to left in the fourth and singled to short in the fifth.

HENDERSON IN Then he came out and Ken Henderson went to center field to finish up. Someone remarked kiddingly that Henderson might become the most unpopular player in Arizona because whenever he goes in, Mays comes out.

Manager Herman Franks has used the same basic batting order in the three weekend games, substituting freely after the fifth innings. In the Giants only loss, 5-4 at Tucson on Saturday, the winning run scored in the 12th inning.

"I'm just doing the same things I usually do in getting ready," says Mays who will be 36 on May 6. When someone wondered out loud whether Mays might become a first baseman in later years, Cleveland shortstop Larry Brown quipped, "Sure, when he's 65."

The Giants scored four times at the expense of Cleveland right-hander Tom Kelley before the 7,452 sun-baked fans yesterday.

Six singles and an error did the damage. With one out, Ollie Brown, Dick Dietz, pinch hitter Tom Haller, Tito Fuentes, Hal Lanier and Mays collected one-base hits consecutively.

BIG HOMER Jose Vidal, in center field, had a throwing error during the outbreak but earlier he had belted a three-run homer, 420 feet and over the left field fence.

That came at the expense of rookie Frank Kasheta, who except for the one bad pitch had thrown well.

Gaylord Perry blanked the Tribe on two hits the first three innings, veteran Don Larsen didn't give up a run in two frames and Rich Robertson, former Santa Clara star, gave up but one hit in two but coupled with a pair of errors it brought the final run.

The Giants play the Chicago Cubs at Phoenix today and then play them again at Scottsdale tomorrow.

No Meschery As Warriors Play Detroit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco's Warriors take on the Detroit Pistons in a National Basketball Association tilt to night, at 8:30 in Civic Auditorium, but without Tom Meschery, who broke his hand in extra-curricular combat.

The 6-foot-6 swift forward mixed it up early in the fourth period Saturday with Los Angeles Laker Darrell Imhoff, while scuffling for a rebound, and came away with a hairline break in his right hand.

X-rays yesterday afternoon revealed the break in the hand's fifth metacarpal bone, one of the cylindrical bones between the fingers and the wrist. Meschery will be out at least a week.

The Warriors squandered a 14-point lead and lost to the Lakers 125-120.

Conflicting reports from the game said: (1) Imhoff rattled an elbow off Meschery's jaw, and (2) Meschery elbowed Imhoff at any rate, lively hostilities got started and at one point both benches were cleared.

Boros Hoping For Ryder Cup Berth

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Julius Boros says he won enough money capturing the Citrus Open golf title to "pay off the mortgage and retire," but the cagey campaigner isn't quite ready to call it quits.

Off to his fastest start in 17 seasons as a pro, the 47-year-old father of seven is determined to win a spot on the Ryder Cup squad which meets England's top professionals in October.

"There's not much money in the Ryder Cup, but it's worth a lot in prestige," Boros added after picking up a $23,000 check for winning the Citrus crown, his second title payoff of the year.

"That would be a great way to bow out, beating the English," Boros said, but later he added that he had no definite plans to retire.

WEEKLY COMEBACK "I used to retire every Monday and made a comeback every Thursday," said Boros, who with the rest of the Orlando contenders will play in the Jacksonville Open which starts Thursday.

UCLA Opens Regionals On Friday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins start their campaign Friday to bring the NCAA basketball crown back to the Los Angeles campus after an absence of only one year.

The first opponent for the Bruins at the NCAA Far West Regionals at Corvallis, Ore., is Wyoming, which beat Brigham Young 70-63 last Saturday for the right to represent the Western Athletic Conference against the nation's No. 1 college team.

Earlier in the day, UCLA finished its season unbeaten in 14 Pacific-8 Conference and 26 total games by polishing off Southern California 83-55.

Once again it was Lew Alcindor, the 7-foot-1½ sophomore who made the difference, scoring 26 points, grabbing rebounds and blocking shots.

It would appear the Cowboys from Wyoming are in for a rough evening against UCLA. Despite tying for the WAC title Wyoming managed a mediocre 14-13 over-all record.

The University of the Pacific, champions of the West Coast Athletic Conference, meet defending NCAA titlist Texas Western in the other regional semifinal.

Oregon State managed to eke out a second-place tie last Saturday night by finally beating last-place Oregon 49-47 in overtime. It was the first victory for the Beavers over their traditional rivals in four games and it took Mike Markham's shot at the overtime buzzer to earn OSU its tie with Washington State.

In the other Pacific-8 finale, California turned the previous night's results around and whipped Stanford 83-58, thereby depriving the Indians a share of second place.

Stanford had won 83-67 the night before in Berkeley. But Cal's excellent guard combination of Charley Perkins with 23 points and Rusty Critchfield with 20 was too much in the end.

UCLA unveiled a sticky pressing defense to combat the expected USC stall and forced the Trojans into numerous ball control errors. Mike Warren added 20 points for the Bruins.

Fourth Place Drake Wins Prestige For Marin Loop

By GARY TISCHLER

Nobody can say that the Marin County Athletic League representative of the 21st annual Tournament of Champions was cannon fodder.

Drake High School's Pirates let nobody down despite finishing fourth Saturday night when they lost to highly touted Berkeley, 48-57, in the fading moments of the final period.

Fremont, a tough 50-34 winner over Drake in the semi-finals, caught San Francisco's Balboa in the second half to annex its second championship for coach Leo Allamanno, 51-44, in the championship game.

In the consolation final, Hayward finally broke loose after two disappointing performances to rip cold-shooting Newark, 85-53.

In losing to two of the top teams in Northern California and in playing three teams that had a combined record of 66-6, the Pirates gained a measure of prestige for the MCAL.

Six-foot-six center Jerry Sprout, who scored 37 points in

FOURTH SECTION Mon., March 13, 1967 25

Sprout, who played six tournament quarters with a sore ankle, was named to the tournament all-star team along with ten other prep stars, three each from Fremont and Balboa, two from Berkeley and one each from Hayward and Newark.

PRIZE ROOTERS

Drake won its fourth prize in as many trips to the tournament for an outstanding rooting section along with Petaluma and Berkeley.

Sprout, who scored 37 points in three games and hauled in 42 rebounds, displayed gusty perseverance against teams with the strongest board power the Pirates have faced all year.

A disappointment for the Pirates was the failure of forward Chet Carlisle, a consistent, steady scorer in all three games, to make the all-star team. Carlisle scored 43 points in three games.

If any one thing beat the Pirates in their battle for third place against Berkeley, it walks around wearing No. 31. Phil

Chenier, who turned in a super-amazing 30-point, 16-rebound performance, was a one-man show for Berkeley.

The performance came only one night after Chenier, an all-Northern California prospect with a 23-point scoring average, was thoroughly humiliated against Balboa, when he could scratch for only five points after scoring 22 points in two quarters against Granada.

DEADLY JUMPERS

Chenier, only a junior, pushed in 16 points in the first half against Drake, on either deadly jumpers or rebound shots. His two eye-poppers from halfcourt at the buzzer of the first and second quarters provided the difference in a 30-27 Berkeley halftime lead.

He got even better in the second half, tipping in 10 straight points on rebounds that pushed Berkeley from a 40-39 deficit to an insurmountable 51-40 lead with 3:08 left. He shot 52 per cent from the field, netting 15 of

Giant Rookies Get Some Tips From Hall Of Fame's Hubbell

PHOENIX — This is Carl Hubbell's 40th year with the Giants. "That's a long time," said the Hall of Famer, "but not as long as you might think. They've been a fast 40 for me. Maybe it's because I've always been happy in this organization, a first class outfit."

HANLEY

Hubbell, the great southpaw of another era and now director of the club's farm system, permits himself moments of nostalgia but he doesn't live in the past. There is a practical purpose behind Hubbell's reminiscing.

"I was scared stiff as a rookie," Hubbell recalled. Several present day rookies with rabbit ears immediately tuned in on a reporter's interview with Hubbell. Of course, Hubbell was quite aware of the kibitzing youngsters and used the interview for some indirect words of advice.

"YES," HE continued, "I was overwhelmed at the thought of being in the big leagues. Ever since I was a kid in knee pants I thought major leaguers were perfect, not capable of error."

"I thought if I made a mistake I would be shipped out. Once I got over such notions I was all right. I became loose and natural. Tenseness left me."

WASN'T HUBBELL originally in the Detroit organization? How did the Tigers let him get away?

"I was with Detroit two springs — at least in training," said Hubbell. "The Tigers bought my contract from Oklahoma City but their coaches didn't like my screwball and George Moriarity, the manager, sent me to Beaumont with the advice to discard the screwball."

HUBBELL KEPT throwing the screwball and the Tigers sold him to the Giants after the 1928 season started. "I think I got rapped for seven runs by the Pirates in my first start that lasted only two innings," said Hubbell.

"I figured I'd be gone the next day and was sure of it when John McGraw called me into his office. But he told me he liked the way I fired the ball in jams even though I got hit hard."

THAT WAS the start of Hubbell's 16-year pitching career with the Giants, a career highlighted by a no-hitter in 1929 over the same Pirates that had whacked him in his first start; a 1-0 18-inning victory over the Cardinals in 1933; a dazzling performance in the 1934 All-Star game when he fanned in succession Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmie Foxx, Al Simmons and Joe Cronin, and, of course, his string of 46½ consecutive scoreless innings which still is a National League record.

HUBBELL RATES his 18-inning win of 1933 over his 1929 no-hitter. "I had an 11-0 cushion in the no-hitter," he said, "There was pressure all the way in the 18-inning game. Tex Carlton, incidentally went the first 16 innings, Jesse Haines the last two."

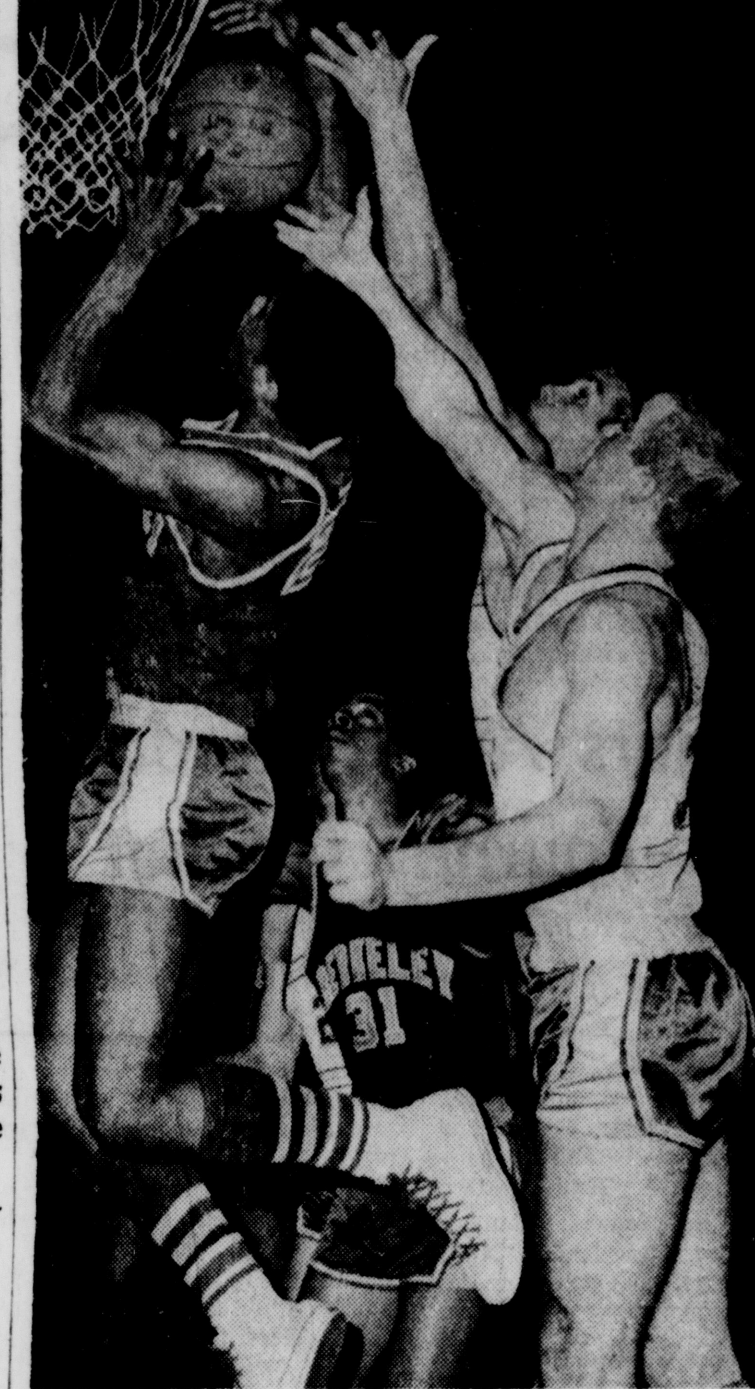

What does Hubbell tell promising rookies, directly or indirectly?

"NO MATTER what I tell them I always wind up by saying the best teacher they'll have are those fellows who carry the bats. A fighter can shadow box 24 hours a day and he may learn a lot of mechanical footwork. But he learns more from a couple of punches in the nose. That kind of knowledge stays with a fellow."

Marin Lacrosse Team Loses, 8-4

Don Lydecker and Bob Heagon each scored two goals but their Marin team lost to San Francisco 8-4 in lacrosse yesterday afternoon at San Francisco's Golden Gate Park polo field.

It was the opening game of the season for both teams in the Northern California Lacrosse Association.

IT'S ALL MINE—Berkeley center James Langford has the basketball all wrapped as he reaches up and over for a rebound while Drake High School's Jerry Sprout and Don Alvarado make a desperate grab for the ball. Underneath is No. 1 Berkeley nemesis Phil Chenier who scored 30 points.

San Franciscan Tops Marksmen

Steve Reiter of San Francisco, scoring 1,456 out of a possible 1,500 points, won the grand aggregate championship yesterday at the Tamalpais Revolver Club's pistol matches.

Second among the 54 marksmen who braved the stormy weather at the San Rafael Pistol Range was Offutt Pinion of San Pablo with 1,453, followed by Jim Christian of San Carlos and Allan Crow of Oakland, each with 1,437.

Team honors were shared by the San Francisco Police Revolver Club and the Richmond Rod and Gun Club.

Ryun Glad Indoor Season Is Over

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas ran his fastest indoor mile, a self-paced 3:58.6, in the highly successful NCAA track meet over the weekend, but the world's premiere middle distance star is glad the indoor season has ended.

"I'm happy the inside competition is finished—I'm always afraid of injury indoors and the boards are hard on my feet," said Ryun today, announcing his next start will be in a dual meet with UCLA in Los Angeles two weeks hence.

Ryun, who set the world outdoor mile record of 3:51.3 at Berkeley, last July, complained of blisters on both feet after whizzing around Cobo Arena's board oval 11 times Saturday for his third sub-four-minute mile indoors. He also has turned the mile indoors in 3:58.8 and 3:59.6.

It was a snappy finish to a tiring weekend in which Ryun suffered a rare defeat by Villanova's Dave Patrick in the 880 Friday night after the Kansas Comet had to run mile and half-mile qualifying heats.

Patrick, who skipped the mile, simply ran away from Ryun to win the half-mile in world indoor record time of 1:48.9 as the Jayhawk sophomore finished second in 1:50.7.

Neither Ryun nor Patrick was able to forestall Southern California's surge to its first team title in NCAA indoor competition with 26 points.

The two-day competition produced nine NCAA records in the 16-event program. Five records were set and two tied in Saturday's 10-event wind-up.

In dethroning Kansas, USC's Trojans grabbed 10 points alone in the pole vault, won with a record 17-4 leap by brilliant Bob Seagren. Another Trojan record breaker was hurdler Earl McCullough, who posted a :7.0 second mark in both the semifinals and finals of the 60-yard barrier race.

Southern California's two-mile relay team accounted for a third Trojan first. Oklahoma took second place with 17 points on victories by defending champion Bill Calhoun in the 440 and the Sooner mile relay team, clocked in meet record time of 3:15.5.

Kansas placed third with 16—nine contributed by Ryun with his mile triumph and half-mile second.

Ryun left nothing for his five mile rivals to do, but follow him. The Sullivan Award winner, who usually lays back and then overpowers the field with his tremendous finish, streaked in front at the start and had a half-mile clocking of 2:01.5.

"I wanted to get out in front and see how I felt," said Ryun, who won by about 40 yards over Sam Bair, Kent State's national AAU champ. "I felt good and then went all out. I'm sure that Friday defeat helped spur me on."

Fifth NCAA mark set Saturday was a 2:07.8 victory by Ray Arrington of Wisconsin in the 1,000-yard run. NCAA records were tied as Nebraska's Charlie Greene won his third straight 60-dash title in :6.0 and high-jumpers Ted Downing of Miami, Ohio, and Missouri's Steve Herndon cleared 7-0.

Before the Chenier takeover in the fourth quarter, the Pirates had stymied Berkeley, holder of a 27-1 record going into the tourney.

The Pirates' usually tough-defense had stopped the Yellow Jacket fast break and press after Berkeley got off to a 6-0 start. Chenier's half-court bank at the buzzer gave the Jackets a 17-10 first-quarter margin and they led by 28-18 midway through the second quarter.

The Pirates should have collapsed then, but substitute forward Scott Hauge sank a corner set, his fourth tournament point, and grabbed six rebounds to help spark a rally that resulted in nine straight points, closing the gap to 27-28.

Carlisle pumped in three baskets in that rally but Chenier unbelievably swished one from approximately 45 feet out at the buzzer and Berkeley led, 30-27.

Berkeley broke off to a 36-31 lead midway through the third quarter before Drake, soared to another big push, with Sprout wheeling for three straight baskets, Carlisle dumping in a quickie and forward Don Alvarado cashing a rebound shot at the buzzer to give the Pirates its first lead, 39-38.

In that quarter, the Pirates gained their only rebound advantage, 15-9.

The Pirates led just one more time at 40-39 before Chenier took over getting 12 points and 7 rebounds to blast Drake hopes.

The Pirates couldn't hit on a fielder until Sprout pushed in a rebound shot with 2:30 left.

HEART-BREAKER

The tourney finale was a heart-breaker for Balboa coach Orran Qualls who in 21 years of coaching the Buccaneers was making his first bid for a TOC title.

The Bucs were in command in the first half, walking off with a 28-21 lead, but Fremont broke Balboa in the second half, with Dennis Hogg taking over the backboard and Raul Yanez whipping in shots from the outside.

Yanez finished with 20 points while Balboa's Darrell Freggia had 16, 14 in the first half.

Some New Faces Shine At Braves, Mets Camps

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New faces shown over the Atlanta and New York Mets exhibition baseball games while revitalized old arms brightened the outlook at the Baltimore and New York Yankees camps.

Clete Boyer, looking like a Yankee of old, played his first game with the Atlanta Braves and said he felt right at home yesterday after slugging three singles in Atlanta's 4-2 victory over Los Angeles in West Palm Beach, Fla.

The final hit, driving in a run, climaxed a two-run seventh inning that broke a 2-2 tie. Boyer also turned in a sparkling play on a swinging bunt in the eighth inning, turning it into a double play.

"There's really no difference," said the third baseman who spent eight years with the Yankees before being traded last winter, "just different faces on the infield."

TIRED LEGS

"My legs are tired, but it was a good way to break in," The Mets got their first glimpse of rookie Don Bosch, a 24-year-old center fielder for whom they traded pitcher Dennis Ribant to Pittsburgh.

The right-hander insisted on playing despite a sprained right hand and smacked two doubles, including on that drove in two fifth-inning runs against the St. Louis Cardinals and broke a scoreless tie. The Mets went on to beat the Cardinals 7-1 at St. Petersburg for the second straight time.

Steve Barber lit up Baltimore's already high hopes of another world championship when he tested his arm against the Yankees and turned in three shutout innings in a 7-2 Oriole victory at Miami.

Barber, who won 18 games for the Orioles in 1961, 20 in 1963 and 15 in 1965, was sidelined much of last season with a sore elbow. But the 28-year-old ace of the youthful Baltimore staff showed no effects of soreness as he allowed only two hits and a walk.

COMEBACK

From the Yankee viewpoint, the pitching of Jim Bouton looked almost as good as the 28-year-old right-hander started his comeback after a 4-15 season in 1966. He gave up five hits, but stopped Baltimore without a run in the middle three innings as he tries to regain the form that won 21 games in 1963 and 18 in 1964.

Rookie Dick Billings singled home the winning run in the last of the 10th inning to give Washington a 4-3 victory over Houston after Jim Landis' bases-loaded double provided the Astros with their runs.

10-3 ROMP

Jim Northrup, Bill Freehan, Jake Wood and rookie Tom Matchick homed in Detroit's 10-3 romp over Minnesota at Lakeland, Fla., for its third straight triumph.

Bill Mazeroski hit a two-run homer in Pittsburgh's 12-hit onslaught that cracked Philadelphia 10-4 at Fort Myers. Bob Veale was one of the few pitching stars with three shutout innings.

Jose Tartabull homered and singled twice as Boston unleashed 13 hits and sank Kansas City 8-3 at Winter Haven, Fla.

Two Tour Triumphs For Boros

didn't hear any noise out of his crowd, so I just kept making pars."

Boros' only bogey was on the 18th hole where he missed the green on his second shot, and then missed a six-foot putt.

That left him a stroke in front of Palmer and Knudson, who birdied the 18th to take $11,212 each for their share of second at 275.

Palmer finished with a 68 and Knudson, 29-year-old Toronto veteran, roared home with a 66.

BIGGEST CHECK

Dean Refram, who has never won in six years on the tour, claimed his biggest paycheck with $5,750 for fourth at 276 after slipping to a closing 72. He started the last round tied for first.

Jack Nicklaus shot his third straight 69 for a 278, where he was tied with Bobby Nichols and Bert Yancey, a stroke back of Mason Rudolph and Kermit Zarley.

Rudolph finished with the hottest round of the tournament, a 64, and Zarley skidded to a 73 after going into the last round tied for the lead.

Doug Sanders, who led during the first two rounds, shot a final round 74 for a 279 total. Gary Player, who started only a stroke off the lead, wound up with a 74 for a 279 total.

Royals Still Trail Knicks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati almost was in like Flynn but instead the Royals today find themselves still chasing the New York Knickerbockers in the race for third place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The Royals were two foul shots away from third place and Flynn Robinson had three chances to make them after the final buzzer of Cincinnati's game at St. Louis yesterday.

But Robinson missed all three shots, leaving the Royals on the short end of a 120-119 final score, and a half-game back of the Knicks, who bowed to Philadelphia 131-120. Cincinnati has four games left to play and New York three.

In yesterday's other games, Boston downed Baltimore 123-118 and Detroit whipped Los Angeles 120-104. Saturday night, Boston shaded Philadelphia 116-114, Cincinnati walloped Chicago 147-119 and Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 125-120.

St. Louis had trailed the Royals throughout the second half until Joe Caldwell's basket put the Hawks in front 120-118 with 25 seconds remaining. Connie Dierking dropped in a foul shot for the Royals and then the Hawks stalled until Len Wilkens missed a lay-up with seven seconds left.

Caldwell fouled Robinson at the buzzer and with the crowd roaring, the Cincinnati rookie missed all three chances from the foul line.

Hal Greer and Billy Cunningham led Philadelphia past the Knicks at New York. Greer poured in 38 points and Cunningham 30 as the 76ers wiped out a nine-point Knickerbocker lead with a 34-8 outburst.

Walt Bellamy had 34 points and Cazzie Russell 26 for the Knicks, who played without Dick Barnett, Dave Stallworth and Dick Van Arsdale.

At Boston, Bailey Howell scored 30 points and John Havlicek 21 in the Celtics' eighth victory in nine games against Baltimore. Ray Scott had 31 for the Bullets.
